COMPLETE AND PROGRESSIVE

The ABCD type of ConSurvey directory was originated by Robert Morton Baldwin and Heber Page. While many publishers have been content to rest on their laurels, issuing the same type directory used fifty years ago, the Mullin-Kille and Baldwin organizations have led the way to the production of an up-to-date ConSurvey directory to meet modern selling and credit conditions.

Newspapers, chambers of commerce, merchants' associations and individual business concerns are invited to write for particulars concerning this type directory service. In the future, as in the past, Mullin-Kille and Baldwin ConSurvey directories will stand for the highest ideals in public service.

SCOTTSBORO, ALABAMA

The Friendly City

STATISTICALLY SPEAKING
THIS IS SCOTTSBORO

BY JAMES K. HARKNESS
Editor and Publisher of The Daily Sentinel

LOCATION

Scottsboro, the county seat of Jackson County, is located on the Tennessee River and Roseberry and Sauta Lakes at the eastern gateway of the Tennessee Valley. It is 100 miles northeast of Birmingham, 60 miles southwest of Chattanooga, and 40 miles east of Huntsville. Elevation of the city is 425 feet MSL and the terrain ranges from mountains and hills to gently rolling to flat. The city and county is in the heart of the beautiful Mountain Lakes Area of North Alabama—The Region of Rustic Luxury.

HISTORY

The Scottsboro area was first inhabited by the Cherokee, Chickasaw and Shawnee Indian Nations. All three of these tribes were basically peaceful and were very friendly to the white settlers. It is estimated that some 400 Cherokee warriors fought alongside General Andrew Jackson in the Creek Indian Wars. Generally the red men were friendly towards the white men and they lived in peaceful coexistence. This peaceful coexistence was probably helped by the fact that Sequoyah, the famous half-breed scholar and leader of the Cherokee Nation, made his home near Scottsboro at Saltpeter Cave. The first white people in the Scottsboro area was a family by the name of Birdsong. Other people began settling around Scottsboro in 1814. Robert Thomas

COURT HOUSE

Scott was one of the original pioneers and it is from him that the city gained its name. Scott was a wealthy young nobleman from North Carolina, and he wished to found a town in his own name. In 1837, Scottsboro was originally known as Sage Town. In 1856, the Memphis and Charleston Railroad began delivering passengers to Scottsboro which was then called Scotts Station. In November of 1868, a court-house was erected in Scottsboro on land donated by Robert Scott, and this city became the county seat with the removal of the records from Bellefonte. Scottsboro has become famous for its "First Monday" trade days which attract many visitors and tourists. Thousands from many states come on the first Monday in every month to trade and swap antiques and oddities of old.

The recent and rapid entering of several large industries into Scottsboro has demanded that this city change its "grass roots" planning to that of a modern urban complex. This rapid change can be easily seen in the population increase from 6,500 in 1960 to the 1972 census of 14,500.

The city of Scottsboro is ripe for urban expansion and industrial growth and if the pattern of urbanism continues in its present path, there is no doubt that this city will eventually become one of the great urban centers of Alabama.

CLIMATE

Scottsboro's average annual temperature is 58.9 degrees. There is a yearly average rainfall of 62.60 inches and average snowfall of three inches.

POPULATION

The 1970 census recorded Scottsboro's population as 14,500 and the county of Jackson with a population of 42,224. The present population of Scottsboro is 16,000 and the population of Jackson County is 44,000. The present ratio is 95% white, 5% colored. The Chamber of commerce projection of Scottsboro's population in 1980 is 30,000. There are 44,000 people within 15 miles of Scottsboro and 88,000 within 25 miles of Scottsboro.

Scottsboro has two newspapers. The Daily Sentinel is a daily published Tuesday through Friday afternoon and Sunday morning. The Advertiser is a bi-weekly published on Thursday. The following dailies have wide circulation in Scottsboro: The Huntsville Times maintained a Bureau office here, The Birmingham News, The Birmingham Post-Herald, The Chattanooga Times and The Chattanooga Free-Press.

Goose Pond Colony

Goose Pond Colony, a multimillion dollar resort being built on Sauta Lake near Scottsboro, marks the beginning of earnest development of the recreation potential of the Alabama Mountain Lakes area.

There is nothing like it in Alabama, and it will surely serve as an enticement to draw out-of-state tourists as well as Alabamians to this corner of the state. The economic rewards will be substantial.

Goose Pond Colony is located on a 465-acre tract, adjacent to Alabama 79, near the Sauta Creek bridge. The colony is intended as a recreational development for families, and its facilities range from camping areas to botanical gardens.

First stages of development will include: a luxurious resort lodge with pool and restaurant, rental villas, an 18 hole championship golf course, camping, boating and picnic areas, swimming complex with pool, bathhouse and beach, a cultural entertainment center, and a community center.

Area residents will share the full use of the facilities on the same basis as tourists.
