THE ALABAMA HERALD, Scottsboro, Thursday, Nov 16, 1871...

"Sad and Sudden Bereavement.

"The following note, in pencil, was sent to this office from the 10 o'clock A.M. Westward passenger train on Tuesday morning.

"Mrs. W. P. Golightly, died on last Sunday evening.

R. A. Timmons

Her Pastor

Nov. 14th, 1871...The deceased, lived in Gadsden, Ala., she was sister of Mrs. A. Snodgrass, by whom and all of her family, she was most tenderly beloved, and the sudden and unexpected tidings of her death overwhelms our household with grief. We had, only three days ago, received letters from her dated 6th and 7th inst. of tenderness and affection, and expressing a hope that she would soon have the pleasure of visiting us. But such is life and the futility of Earthly hopes! We had no news of her sickness and have no particulars of her death. Her age was 31 years--she leaves a husband and three children, whose loss can never be supplied on Earth. Mrs. Golightly as a wife, mother, sister and relation, as a neighbor and friend, was, in all essential respects, a superior woman--Her loss will be felt and mourned outside of her family circle. Words cannot express the grief of those who were bound to her by the tie of near relationship.

LATER.

Just as we go to press, a letter received by Mrs. Snodgrass from Capt. A. L. Woodliff of Gadsden, from Chattanooga, Tenn. written yesterday, states that Mrs. G. died suddenly of congestion on Sunday evening at 4 o'clock--that Willie, her second daughter died at 12 o'clock on Tuesday and that Mollie, her oldest daughter was lying very low with pneumonia."

OBITUARY

MRS. SALLIE C. DAVIDSON (from old newspaper clipping)
Mrs. Sallie C. Davidson died at her home in Scottsboro, Ala. Feb 19th, 1874, she was the daughter of Thos and Caroline Snodgrass, was born September 29th, 1847. She professed religion and joined the C.P. Church in early life, but soon after joined the M. E. Church South, of which she remained an acceptable member during life. She was happily united in marriage to Mr. T. M. Davidson, January 19th, 1871. She was especially noted for a quiet uniform and consistant character. She was habitually pious, thus exhibiting the good effects of her early parental religious training. Her little infant girl (Maybel) although only about two years old, still remembers, and can point out the very spot where she has seen her "mama" pray. Only a few days after she saw her mother buried, while in the parlor with her grandmother, she stooped down and placing her little hand on the carpet near the centre table, and looking up into her grandmother's face, she said "here where mama prayed." Oh! what a lesson to mothers. This circumstance teaches two important facts, first, that she did not neglect to take her little child with her to private devotion, and secondly, that the impressions of those seasons of prayer were not lost on that little mind, although it had been several months perhaps since she had seen her mother kneel there, as she has been too much afflicted to leave her room for sometimes past. She was one of those mothers who believe it is right to consecrate their children to God and the Church by baptism, and acted accordingly, and ever afterwards endeavored to impress those sacred lessons that the ordinance brings with it. Another specialty in her general character was that she was scrupulously conscientious in all matters of morality and religion, so much so that she could not tolerate anything that had the slightest appearance of deception. To know her one day was to know her the next also, for she was so eminently sincere that first acquaintance was always a true index to her character. I might enlarge in just eulogies of the dead, for she was in most respects indeed a model for any community, but the unacceptability of lengthy obituary notices warns me to desist. We may truthfully say that the community has lost a most estimable and accomplished lady, the church an acceptable member, the mother a dutiful daughter, the brothers and sisters a very affectionate sister, the husband a devoted companion, but who sustains a greater loss among all these than the innocent unconscious prattling babe. May she live to adorn society by imitating her mother's virtues, for a life of modest piety admonishes us that our loss is her gain.      S'boro 2-23-1874

Letter to Mrs. Bill Sumner, February 20, 1971, from C. A. Welborn, 606 W. Church, Apt. 2, Greenwood, Miss 38930

"I am trying to establish the relationship between aquilla Welborn(Wilborn-Welbourne, etc.,) and Elias Welborn who were in Jackson County by 1830 and Elias possibly earlier. Were they brothers? cousins? or related at all? Qquilla (Quiller) is believed to be the son of Gideon Welborn who went to Barren County, Ky., 1806 from North Carolina with three brothers and families and their father, James. Several facts indicate that Elias was likely a son of Gideon also, but have no legal evidence. The 1850 Jackson County census shows three sons of Aquilla were Starnes, Elias and James. 1860 census, Jackson County shows Aquilla and wife in household No.61, Div. 4 and living in households adjoining were each of the three sons, Starnes, Elias and James.

"Elias Welborn was on Eastern Side of Range on 1830 census and P. O. was Coffeville(later Langston), where he died December, 1864. His three sons were William Starnes, James L. and Geo. W. He had grandsons named Starnes and Elias--names used in each generation.

"The family began scattering after the Civil War and it is hard to establish facts concerning the early generations. I shall be glad to exchange data."

The names of his parents: county and date of birth in S. C.; date and place of his death and burial. Mr. Floyd said, "A son of Enoch Floyd, Sr., Alva Waters Floyd("my great grandfather") and his family embarked on a flatboat on the Tennessee River, Larkins Landing, for Northwest Arkansas in early 1859. I assume they traveled up the Tennessee to the Mississippi and down the Mississippi

On March 5, 1859, they landed at Ozark, Franklin County, Arkansas, where the parents lived out the remainder of their lives. Alva Waters Floyd died 18 August 1881. Letter to Mrs. Bill Sumner from Mrs. P. B. Price, 2527 Harris Blvd. Austin, Texas 76703, March 29, 1971.....

"Thank you for cemetery records from Mt. Carmel cemetery, (near Stevenson, Jackson Co., Ala) on the McCamp bells, Moorecs and Daniel Price. They were very interesting. That is the Daniel Price who married Ann W. McFarlane. I have her pension record. He was a Capt. in the War of 1812 from Tenn and seems to have been from Knox county. I recently had letter from a lady who has a Christian Price who married a Legg in Knox Co., Tenn and wondered if she was a sister to Daniel Price. No doubt she was. That name Christian Price is legion. She said she(Christian) was a dau of Edward Price and that interested me. Daniel would have been born 1789, if age 44 yrs 2 mos 45 days in 1833. Mrs. Carmichael(author-In And Around Bridgeport-C.S.) shows W. D. McCampbell born May 1, 1834, died April 27, 1886 and William O. with these same dates. W. D. was William Daniel Price(per his pension record from Montgomery) and his wife was Martha Jane (Jenkins) McCampbell(see my files for their marriage record-C.S.)

She had one child T. Seward when she married David Stewart. I do not know who T. Seward married but they had 2 daus, Buena who wed (1) Pet Riggins (2) Dan Henson; Lena Bell who wed Dan Henson(After her death her sister, Buena, married her husband, Dan Henson).

"Charles Franklin Stewart wed (1) Carrie Jenkins (2) Jennie Riggins(sister of Pet Riggins). Charles and Carrie Jenkins had the following children:"

The first 96 pages of the Bible are missing, also an unknown number of pages on the back. The publisher's name and date of publication are not known. our dear parents Suitable Monuments

Kirby Family notes by Mrs. Inez Jenkins Murphy.....

"The dates in this Bible have been written by several persons. The marriage of Richard L. Kirby and Eliza Brown Parks and the births of their children was written by the same person in a masculine script, evidently by Richard L. Kirby. The marriage of Hugh G. and Flora A. Kirby, the birth dates of his wife and children, the death dates of his parents and the request for monuments to be placed over the graves of his parents are all in the handwriting of Hugh G. Kirby. The death dates of Hugh G. and Flora A. Kirby, Addie Kirby Sawyer and Hugh Parks Kirby were written by Winnie Davis Kirby Moore. The death date of Grady Kirby was written by Inez J. Murphy.

The "Jr." on the name of Richard L. Kirby's death date is an error. He was not a son of Richard L. Kirby, Sr. Richard Laurence Kirby and his wife, Eliza Brown Parks do have white marble grave markers. They are buried in a "Kirby Family Cemetery" on "Backbone Ridge," southwest of Scottsboro, Alabama (note by Sumner: this cem located across rd from my home and adjoins the golf & country club property. I have copy of it. Located on Guntersville hwy.) Their two sons, Joseph Porter Kirby and John Parks Kirby are buried in the same cemetery. Joseph Porter Kirby died suddenly when he was about two years old. A slave girl confessed on her deathbed that a horse kicked him in the head while his parents were away from home."

"John Parks Kirby married Jane Gullatt. After his death, his widow moved to Texas to raise her family. (incomplete record on this family-Mrs. Murphy)

Lucinda Jane Kirby married John Jenkins in 1861. They had seven children: namely, Eliza Lee, William Porter, Addie Lenora, Sallie P., Hortense Beaucharnais, Annie Vashti and Myrtle Hemans Jenkins. (See Jenkins family Bible records).

John Jenkins and Lucinda Jane Kirby were buried in the Frazier Cemetery near Goosepond. Their graves were moved to Cedar Hill Cemetery (the main one in Scottsboro) in 1966. (The Frazier Cemetery was located on Goosepond Island where the present Revere Aluminum plant is located. Through the efforts of Mrs. Murphy and Mr. Julian Clemons of Scottsboro, the old cemetery was not bulldozed off but moved, all the graves, to Cedar Hill-C.S.)

Hugh G. and Flora A. Kirby are buried in Cedar Hill Cemetery, Scottsboro, Ala.

All four children of Hugh G. and Flora A. Kirby married, but none of them had any children.

Hugh Parks Kirby and Addie Kirby Sawyer are buried at Magnolia Springs, Alabama.

Grady Kirby was buried in Houston, Texas.

(This Bible was given to Mrs. Murphy by Winnie Kirby Moore, who lives at Magnolia Springs, Ala.)

Lindsay notes by Christine Sumner....

William Ervin Lindsay was the son of William Ranson Lindsay and his wife Elizabeth Ann Woosley, dau of Wm. Alexander Woosley and Mary Fisk Woosley (see Woosley our vol. 2) granddaughter of Aaron Woosley, Revolutionary soldier thought to be buried somewhere in Lincoln county, Tennessee, where he applied for pension in 1818 and 1820 (see his pension record in later volume)

William Ervin Lindsay and his wife are buried with a number of their children in Cedar Hill Cem in Scottsboro, Alabama.

William Ranson Lindsay (have xerox of his original Bible Record from his old Bible-C.S.) was the son of John Lindsay born May 12, 1789, and his wife Martha (Lodford Lindsay. John is buried in the David Snodgrass cem, Mt. Pleasant, Titus County, Texas. His wife, Martha, is buried in the old Blue Springs cem at Larkinsville, Ala (Jackson county) See their records in a future volume. John Lindsay married Nancy Walker after his wife Martha died in 1843. Nancy was the dau of William Walker and his wife Mary Carrick, early settlers of Jackson County at Bellefonte. After John Lindsay died in 1853 (Sept. 7) Nancy married James A. Wright, son of Stephen Wright (see his will, Marshall County, Ala) a pioneer of Jackson and Marshall counties, Ala.

John Lindsay had six children by Nancy Walker. They were: Francis (some question as to m or female, I think probably male as shown in 1850 census Jackson county and of "unsound mind.")

Other children of John Lindsay and his wife Nancy were Sarah, Rufus, George, Covington and John. These last children were reared in the West somewhere. No record has been found of their descendants by this writer.

John Lindsay, born May 12, 1789, was the great, great, great, grandfather of Christine Sumner.

John Lindsay's son Noah, built the house in Denison, Texas, where Dwight David Eisenhower was born. It is now a National Museum. Some of the Lindsay's belongings are still in the house.

Noah Lindsay's wife was Francis Marie Deveraux Jesse Check Walker, sister of Nancy Walker Lindsay, wife of John.

An excerpt of a letter from Noah to his brother William Ransom Lindsay February 15, 1874, dated at "Snow Hill, Texas" says: "Frances has very good health. We have only two children with us, Sallie and Jahnice our youngest girl and baby boy. We have five girls married; Mat, Mollic, Beadie, Tishie and Ananda to the following: Redding, Darby, Lovcing, Bridges and Shaw. Frances and myself and Mat, Beadie and Ananda belongs to the Missionary Baptist Church. Much love to all your family; also to Manerva's (1) family. What is Tip(Samucl Tipton Lindsay son of Manerva Tipton Lindsay and her husband Lewis Ervin Lindsay) doing now? We haven't heard from him in a long time. as ever your brother and Sister N. C. Lindsay

F. M. Lindsay"

(1) Manerva was the widow of Lewis Ervin Lindsay, son of John and brother to Noah and Willian Ransom Lindsay. Lewis Ervin Lindsay was a Capt. of Company K, 4th Alabama Infantry Regiment raised by him at Larkinsville, Alabama. He was killed at the first battle of Manassas in Virginia. His body was brought back to Larkinsville, Jackson County, Alabama, for burial. He is buried in an unmarked grave beside his daughter Alvenia Lindsay, wife of Thomas V. Warren. She has a tombstone. (More on this family in a later volume)
