HAPPY HOLLOW NEWS

On Monday the school observed the birthday of George Washington. All assembled in the chapel and enjoyed the program given by the pupils of the school. Soon after the exercises in the chapel were over everyone present marched to the front of the school building and took part in the planting of a tree. The tree which was chosen for the occasion was a poplar. It is tall and stately and reminds us of tall and stately George Washington.

As the school marched by singing "This is the way we plant a tree" each child and teacher threw a handful of dirt on the roots.

The invocation was offered by Rev. J. W. Fulford who is holding a Mission here this week.
