Rainy Days and Fridays

was the theme of the football season. Homecoming was no exception!

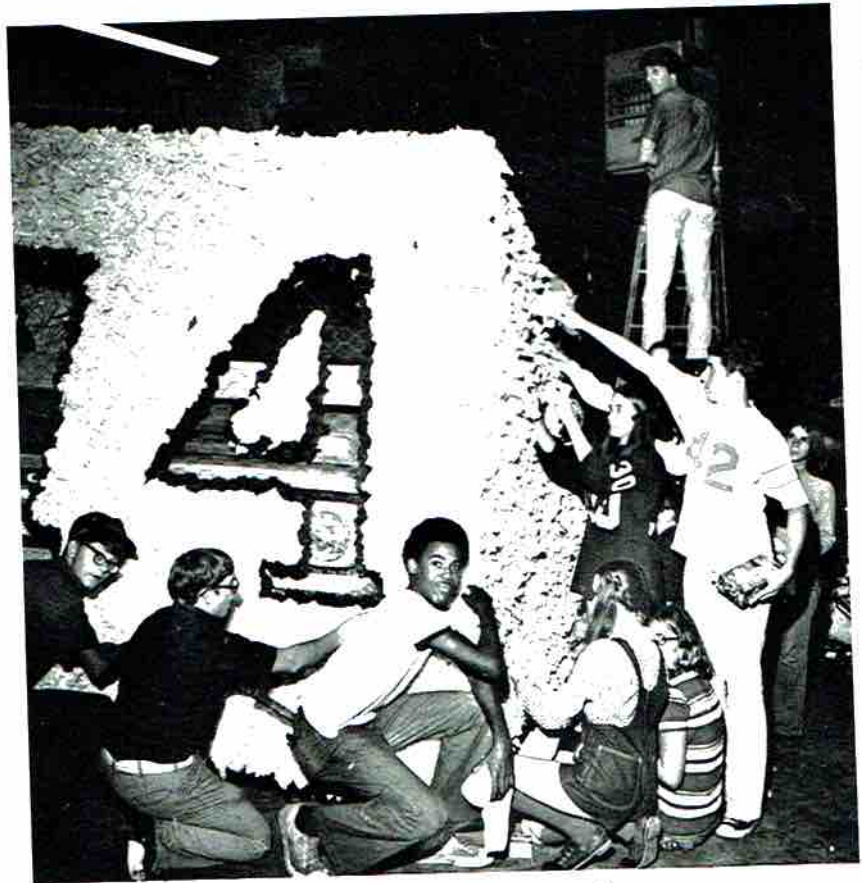

Beauties and fund raisers such as a car wash for B.O.E. Club and a skit to kick off the REMINDER sale, were some of the outstanding memories of the fall.

Night of January 16th

was a realistic drama of a murder trial. Tension mounted as a jury selected from the audience brought in the verdict.

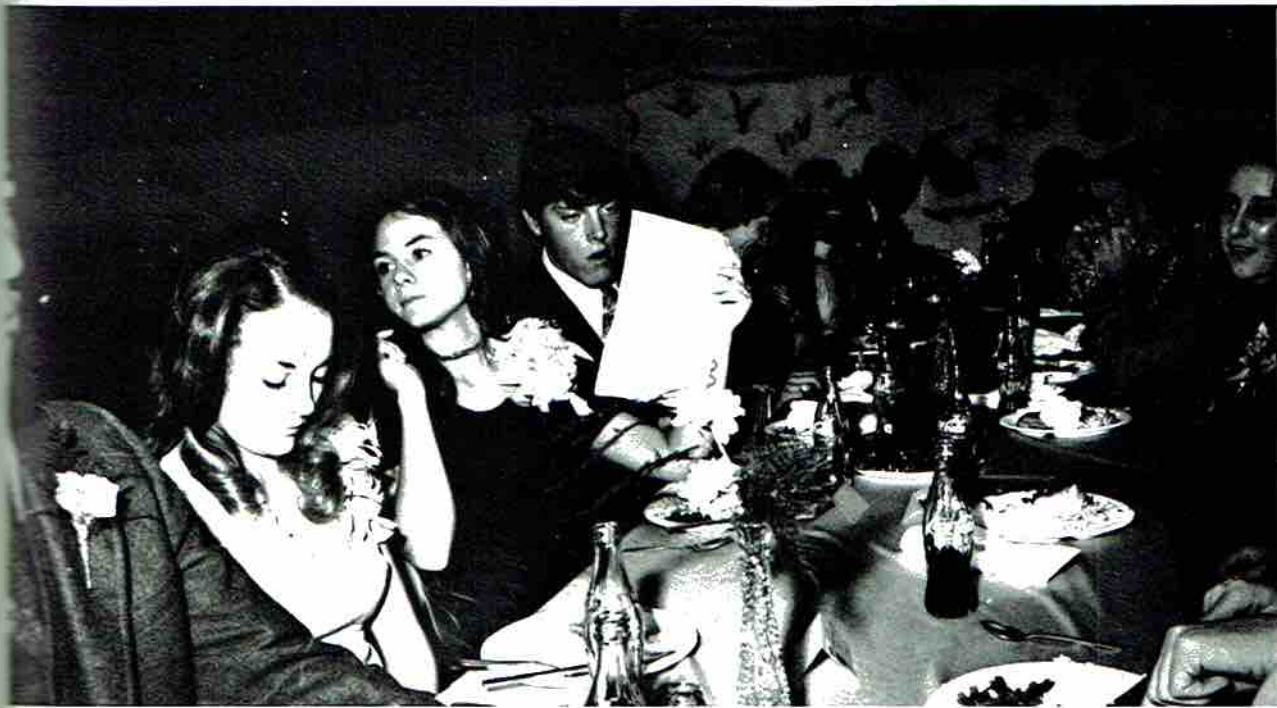

"I can't hold my breath any longer!"

Clearasil,

orchids, and ham were the aromas that filled the room at the Football Banquet.

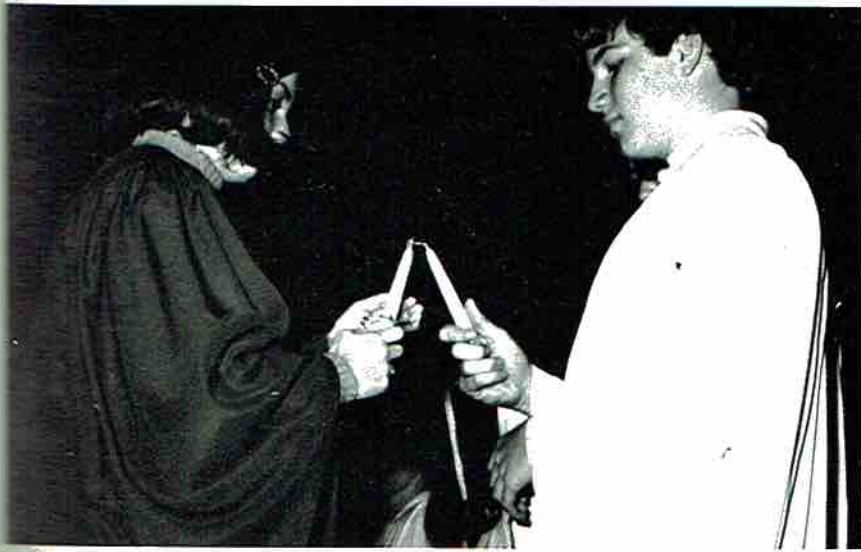

There are many activities at S.H.S. Included are the Band Banquet and the Military Ball. Both occasions involved a lot of eating, drinking, and just plain fooling around.

Remember

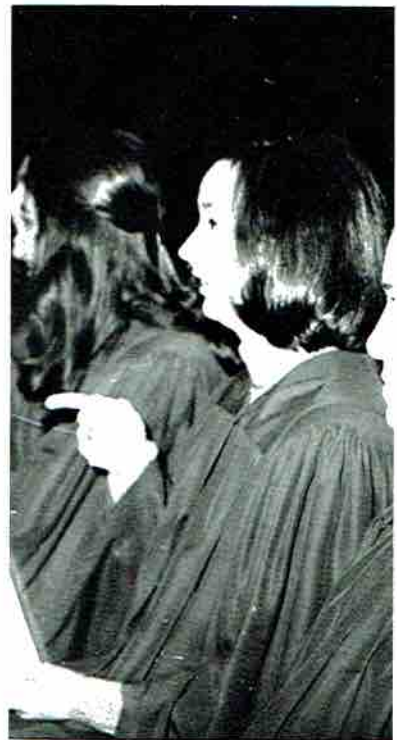

the day the Senior rings came? The ecstasy of it all!

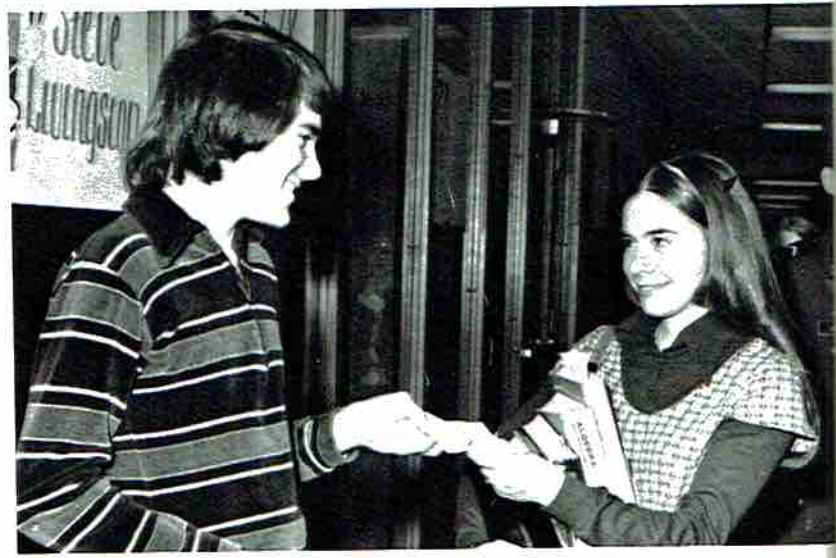

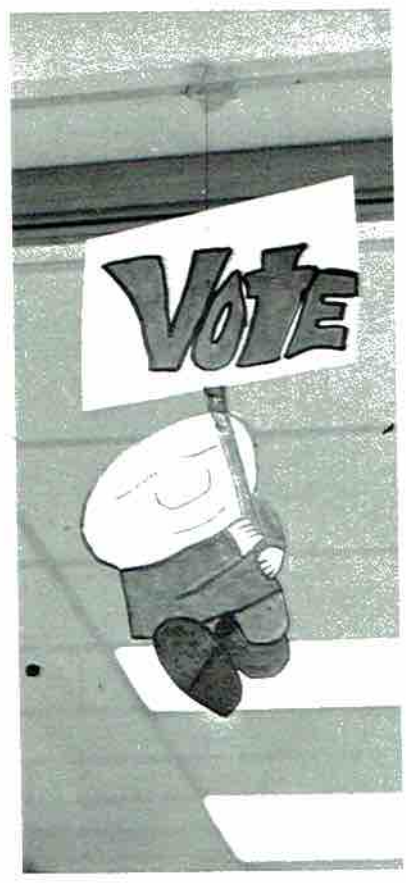

Nervous Stomachs,

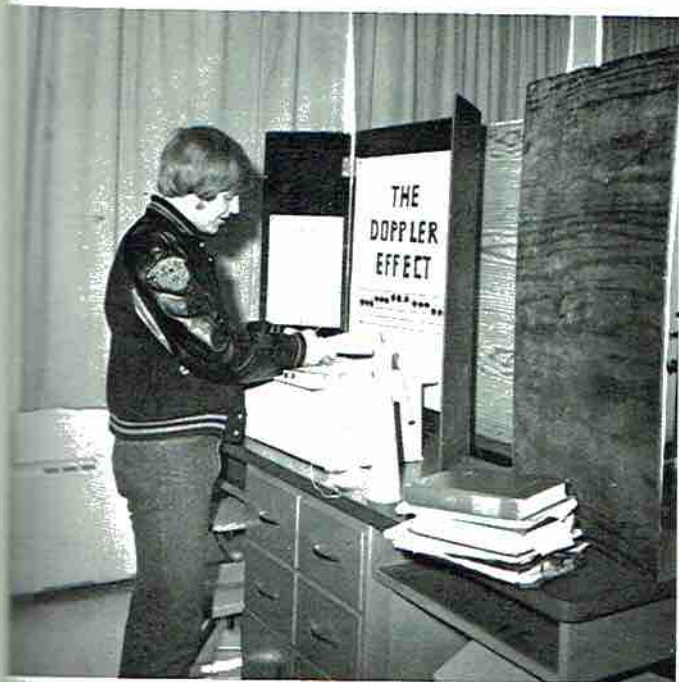

Pounding hearts at being tapped. Wide smiles and congratulations. Tears of joy for some, disappointment for others. Pointing the way to scholarship, character, leadership, and service in the National Honor Society.

Stumping . . .

handshakes, posters, cards, and gum to get elected to office, and relief when it is all over!

Stuffed animals,

backboards, bacteria, and hard work all combined to make the annual Science Fair a success.

Cheers

went up and smiles abounded when it was announced that the band was recommended for State contest.

Blistered feet

soaking in the tub was the result of the 15 mile Walkathon in which the Student Council played a very important role. The council was very busy this year and sponsored various activities such as the WVOV Good Guys Basketball game, Homecoming parade, and sold school spirit hats to students for ballgames. The student council also made it possible for some lonely girls to have at least one date a year by having the twirp dance. The student council officers served as the chairman for a program at the state convention. This year the council became the chairman of all school elections. Thanks, Student Council, for a job well done!

Put on your thinking caps if you want to make the National Honor Society. This year the society inducted 34 new members which were qualified by having an overall B+ average and were outstanding in Leadership, Scholarship, Character, and Service. The NHS has proven its service ability by placing trash cans on the school campus and by working with the Department of Pensions and Securities in the preparation of Christmas baskets of food and clothing for needy families in the Scottsboro area. For their fund raising project they sponsored a "Teacher Extravaganza" in which the teachers performed a variety of talents. Some of the proceeds from this project went toward sending four delegates to the state convention at Auburn, Alabama. Other proceeds were used to have a little fun at the NHS picnic which was held at Monte Sano Park.

Observing

members of the Senior Science Club at the annual teach-ins at Caldwell, Brownwood, and Jr. High Schools was one of the ways in which younger students learned many valuable scientific procedures and techniques. This club also showed their interest in science by helping prepare for the local science fair and serving as guides at the occasion. In addition to their services, they sponsored members of the club to attend the Junior-Academy of Science. This club and its sponsor have helped to interest many students in the different fields of science study.

Blood

mobiles and other organizations in the community received help from members of the Medical Careers Club throughout the school year. The students who belong to this club are interested in learning about the different medical fields that are now open for careers. During the year the club had guest speakers who came to talk to the members and try to interest them in his certain medical field. The club also went on a field trip to the Jackson County Hospital so they could better understand the management of a hospital and see a working staff. This club is a big help to students who are undecided about what field of study they are going to go into after they finish their high school studies.

Travel

was on the agenda for the members of the Spanish Club as they planned their year's activities. At the beginning of the year they began thinking about a trip to Costa Rica during the week they were out of school because of A.E.A. Certain members of this club went to the State Spanish Convention in Montgomery and the National Spanish Exam in Gadsden, in which Sherry Tyler was announced the district winner in the first year student division. This club showed their love for fiestas by having several parties which were the Thanksgiving party, Christmas party, and a spring outing at which Mr. Edmonds was surprised by being thrown into the lake. This year the Spanish Club sponsored a Colombian student for nine weeks of her stay in the United States. During these nine weeks, Elizabeth Moro taught some English and history courses at the high school. Gracias, Sra. Truitt. Hizo el curso interesante y divertido. (Thank you, Mrs. Truitt. You made Spanish an interesting and fun course.)

Popsicles

and ice cream were sold at First Mondays to raise money to host the second annual Mu Alpha Theta State Convention. This was a big task to be undertaken since the local chapter is only three years old, but they proved their dedication by hosting a very successful convention. This year one of the members, Lester Gant, was named the "Outstanding Math Student" of the state of Alabama. Four of the members won second place in the geometry division in the ciphering contest held at the convention. This club, as you can see, was prone to receive honors for it also won first place in the car division of the homecoming parade with their car decorated as Snoopy. Along with a lot of hard work, this club also found time to have a good time with a spring picnic which concluded the year's activities.

Powdered

hair and made-up faces played an important role for the Drama Club as they prepared for the production of their two plays. Their first play, which was entitled "Night of January 16th," was performed during the school hours and was also performed at night in the auditorium at the Scottsboro High School. The other play, "Second Childhood," was a comedy and received very well by the youth as well as the adults of Scottsboro. Along with the drama club's productions, they also had time to help with the production of "Camelot," which was performed by a group from Huntsville, Alabama. As one can understand, the Drama Club has been kept very busy and has done a great job with its activities. If you want to have a lot of fun along with a lot of hard work, join next year's drama club.

Moving

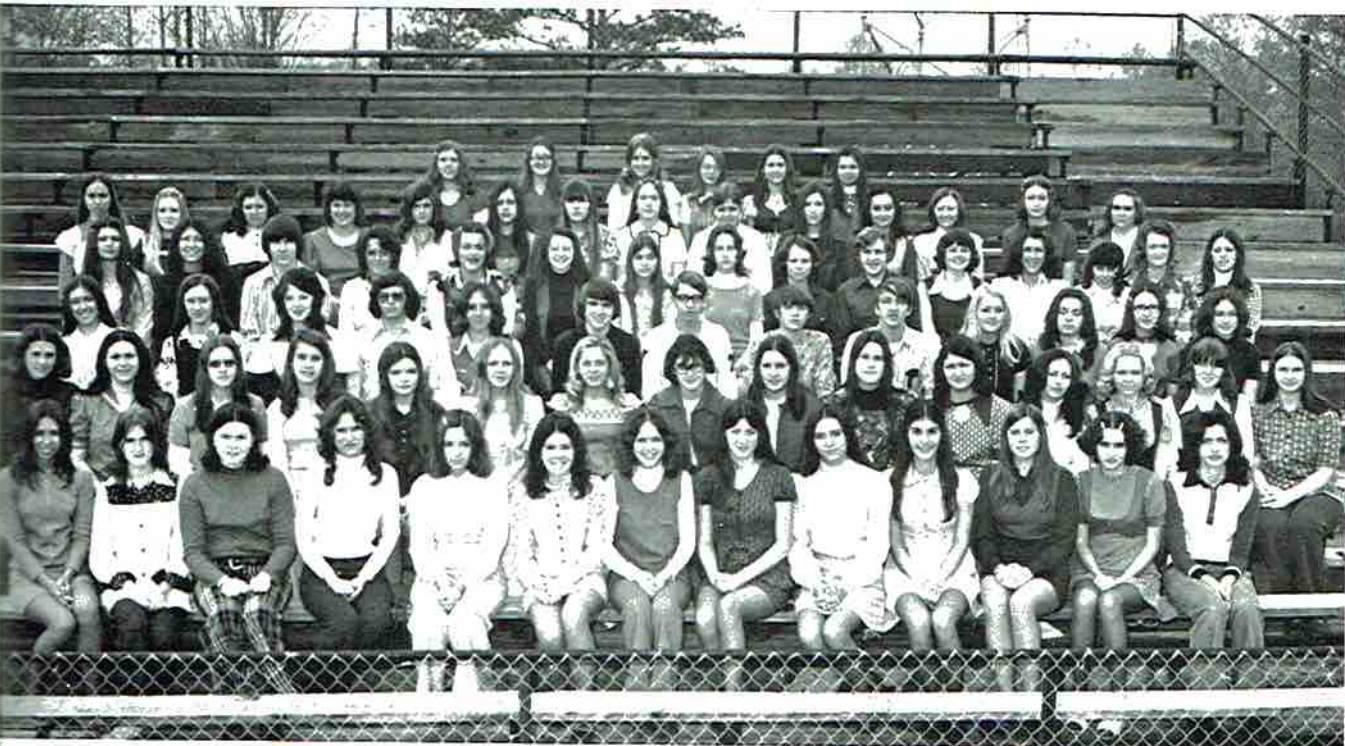

into the new addition of the library was one of the many helpful jobs done by the Library Club. This club has been very beneficial to Scottsboro High School this year. They sponsored two spaghetti suppers in which proceeds went toward buying a copying machine which was needed very much in the library since it eliminates the loss of many reference books. This club also sponsored the "Book Exhibit" in which people could buy books for the library. Some of the members met a few nights and made mini-shelves for the new books which were arriving daily. To conclude the year's activities this club went on a trip to Nashville. Thank you, Library Club, for making the Scottsboro High School library a place where students can broaden their field of learning.

Wild horses

and motorcycles were illustrations used by the Torch Staff for the publication of the annual Torch. The Torch is a magazine which uses different poems, short stories, ballads, and art work submitted by many students of the high school. The Torch Staff has had several workshops that were led by local authors and artists. On May 7 an awards program was held at the school library. At this program many students were recognized for their original work in the 1973 edition of the Torch. The staff and its sponsor worked very hard to prepare the final draft before their final deadline. Congratulations on a job well done.

Making out and grading tests are some of the jobs of the Future Teachers of America. Each member helps a teacher by working as his aide for one period a day. This year the FTA became charter members affiliated with the Alabama Education Association and the National Education Association. The members of this club did other beneficial projects besides serving as teacher's aides such as: filling a Thanksgiving basket for a needy family, conducting a voter's registration campaign, helping with the Visual Aid program at Caldwell Elementary School, and having several members walking in the March of Dimes Walkathon. The FTA also sponsored the first school-wide Christmas door decoration contest, and contributed a FTA banner to remain in the school from the 1972-73 members. The faculty will agree the FTA is a great asset to Scottsboro High School.

Something's burning in the hearts of the members of the Future Homemakers of America. This year they made people happy by doing various projects such as: sponsoring the Senior Ladies party each month, Red Cross volunteer work, wrapping Christmas presents for Special Education class at the Lurleen Wallace Hospital in Decatur, Alabama, honoring for Christmas and Easter, Deby Weeks, who is a student at the Talladega School for Blind, and making cookies and serving, and the Special Education Supper. They also served as hostesses for many clubs and organizations around Scottsboro. For their fund-raising projects they sold cookbooks, Stanley products, and sponsored a Sock Hop Dance. They concluded the year with the naming of Julie Maynor as Miss FHA of 1973.

Nuts and bolts

were needed by the Future Farmers of America when they conducted a "Fix-It-for-Free" for the members of the faculty. This club helped other clubs of the school, especially the drama club, when they built stage flats for the drama club's two plays. Besides all of their services they had time to participate in the county FFA contest. At the contest the members won all of the electric welding events, won second place in the soil judging and in the dairy judging, and won third place in the livestock judging. The members of this club also participated in the campus beautification program. The FFA program is one that is needed very much in a school and our school has one of the best in the area.

Washing

cars was one of ways in which the Business and Office Education Club used to raise funds for the club activities. Members of this club also held a fashion show in which they modeled clothes from the local merchants. A film by General Telephone Company discussing "Secretarial Procedures" was shown at one of the regular meetings. Several members of the club attended the Community Theatre's production of "Never Too Late" at the Holiday Inn. A reception for new members was given and guests at this occasion were members of the National Secretaries Organization. To conclude the year's activities they held a farewell party for the Seniors at their last meeting.

A bulletin

board was given to the school as a gift from the 1972-73 members of the Anchor Club. This club is a service organization composed of girls in grades 10-12 who are interested in serving their school and community. For the first time in the school a student directory was published thanks to this organization. The Anchor club also did many other beneficial projects such as: helping with the Leukemia drive, conducting Storytime at the Public Library, serving as usherettes as the Pilot Club Travelogues, babysitting at the Parent Teacher Association meetings. For a fund raising project the club members took the time out to sell stationery. With some of the money acquired from this project the members gave a tea for the new members and their mothers. Even though this is the club's first year they have really been involved with the activities in the Scottsboro area.

Meeting the deadlines involved a lot of hard work for the Wildcat Staff. This year for the first time the Wildcat Staff had their paper, The Wildcat, published once a month during the school year. This year they also did their own layouts for the first time. During the earlier part of the year some of the staff attended a journalism workshop at the University of Alabama in Huntsville. At this workshop the students learned many helpful ideas they used for preparing The Wildcat for publication. The Wildcat Staff has done a great job this year and the students have shown their capability of publishing a very good school newspaper.

"Trapped

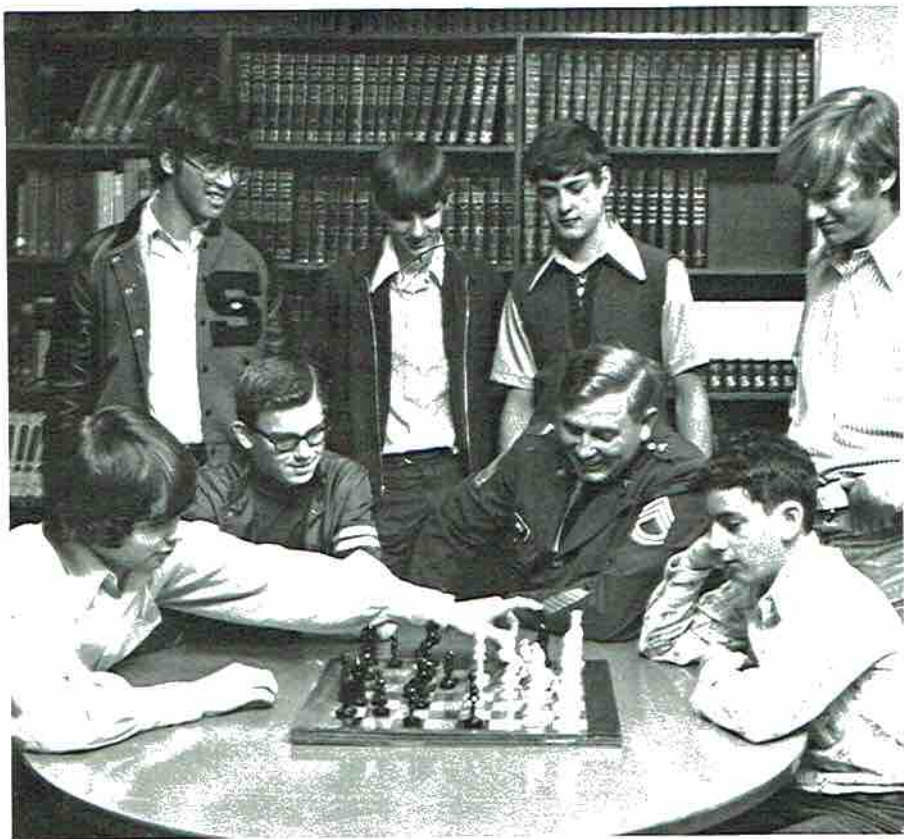

white space and no writing to the inside" could be heard frequently in Annual Staff. This year the staff was made up of seventeen junior and senior girls who work one period a day. At the first of the year the staff went around to different business selling ads to raise money so that the Reminder could be printed. To promote the sale of annuals, the staff and sponsor presented a skit to the student body about how students could look back in their annuals 20 years from now and remember the good "ole" days. After the selling of ads and the presentation of the skit, the staff started planning the different sections for the 1972-73 annual. The staff and sponsor have worked very hard this year to make the final deadline.

Solving

problems within the club and organizations of Scottsboro High School is the main purpose and concern of the Inter-club Council. Under the leadership of Jimbo Barclay, chairman, this council met several times this year to discuss the drawing up of constitutions for the clubs. This is the first year that Scottsboro has had such a council and it has proven to be a great asset to the school.

Checkerboard

squares were seen by the Chess Club members when they met at their meetings. The members of this club are interested in playing the game of chess with other students of Scottsboro High School. Hill was one of the places at which the Debate Team competed in a tournament. The team has proven its determination to promote debate for they attended the area, regional, and state tournaments. Kenny Bonner had the best record of the team and received a debate scholarship to University of Middle Tennessee. The University of Alabama has accepted Tom Gibson to be a member on their debate team. These members, Mrs. Elder, and the other members of the team deserve high recognition for the great job they have done for a first year debate team!

Raising

the school spirit is the main purpose of the Pep Club. This year the members of this club have worked hard selling shakers and slogan ribbons so that the students can show that they have the spirit to promote the different athletic sports of the school. At homecoming some of the members got together and prepared a decoration that was entered in the parade. Even though the huge envelope did not win a prize, the members showed the players that they cared about winning the games of the year and especially the homecoming game. At the basketball games, the club tried to sit together so they could give the boys all of their support by yelling together. The club has really shown some school spirit this year and the players and coaches can tell when the spirit is high, even in times of defeat.

"We've kicked the habit!"

Kicking

legs and big smiles could be seen as the Scottsboro High School Majorettes marched onto the football field for the half-time festivities. The majorettes begin their practice early in the summer, approximately two weeks before they attend majorette camp. This year the group attended the Corps of the Marching Band Camp at Birmingham Southern. At camp the majorettes received a trophy for being the best majorette corps during the week of camp. The majorettes also proved their talent by receiving superior ratings at two of the marching contests that they attended. The majorettes have done a beautiful job with all of their performances throughout the year.

Practice

was the word heard and expressed more by the Scottsboro High School Band than any other work in the latter part of the summer and throughout the school year. The band proved that they had really been practicing by rating a superior at the Tarrant Marching Contest and also at the Oxford Marching Contest. The band had great marching performances as well as concert performances. This year the band served as host for the District Band Contest at which they were selected to participate in state competition in Tuscaloosa. S.H.S. Band is something to be commented on and we are very proud of having such a great band!

and faces were the results of a lot of hard practice done by Scottsboro High School's Color Guard. This group had a week of clinic in the early part of August. Martha Gist, a graduate of Scottsboro High, was in charge of teaching the Flash Flags a series of routines they could use during the half-time shows at football games and also at the marching contests they attended. Denise Wylie, a student at Jacksonville State University, taught the Rifle Team new steps and routines to be used in their performances. The Honor Guard had a very important job with the band because they were the first to step onto the field for the band performances. The Color Guard has shown its performing abilities at half-time and contest and has done a great job.

Scottsboro City Schools

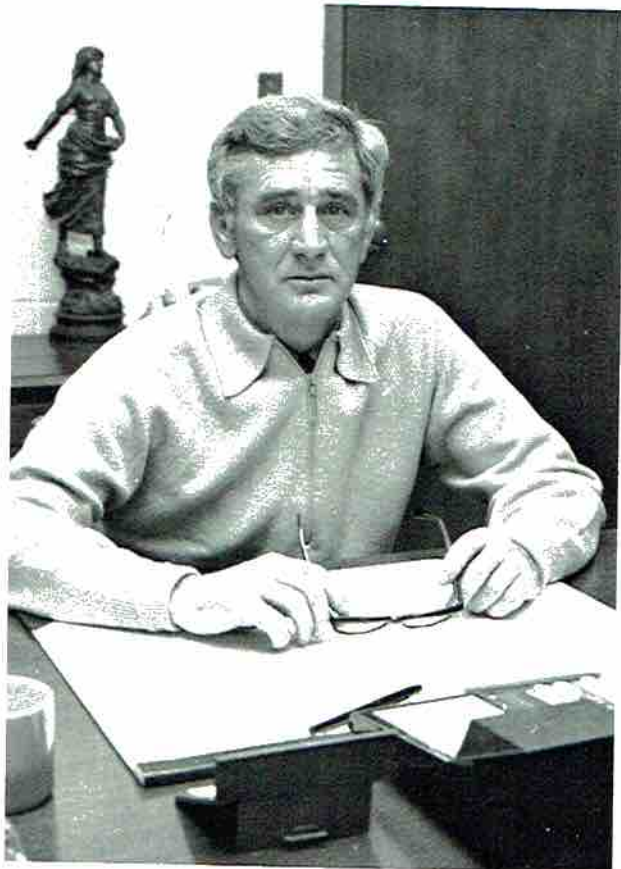

Administration

Ray Collins

PRINCIPAL

Mr. Collins has long been a respected man in the school and in our community. Due to his great interest in the students he is always working for the students and the school. Even with his busy schedule he has time to participate in the many student activities. His many hours of devotion are appreciated by the students and faculty.

Fred Thomas

ASSISTANT PRINCIPAL

Mr. Thomas is a dedicated member of the administrative staff who spends many extra hours helping students and faculty with activities and problems outside the regular school day.

Madam Butterfly?

May I have the next dance?

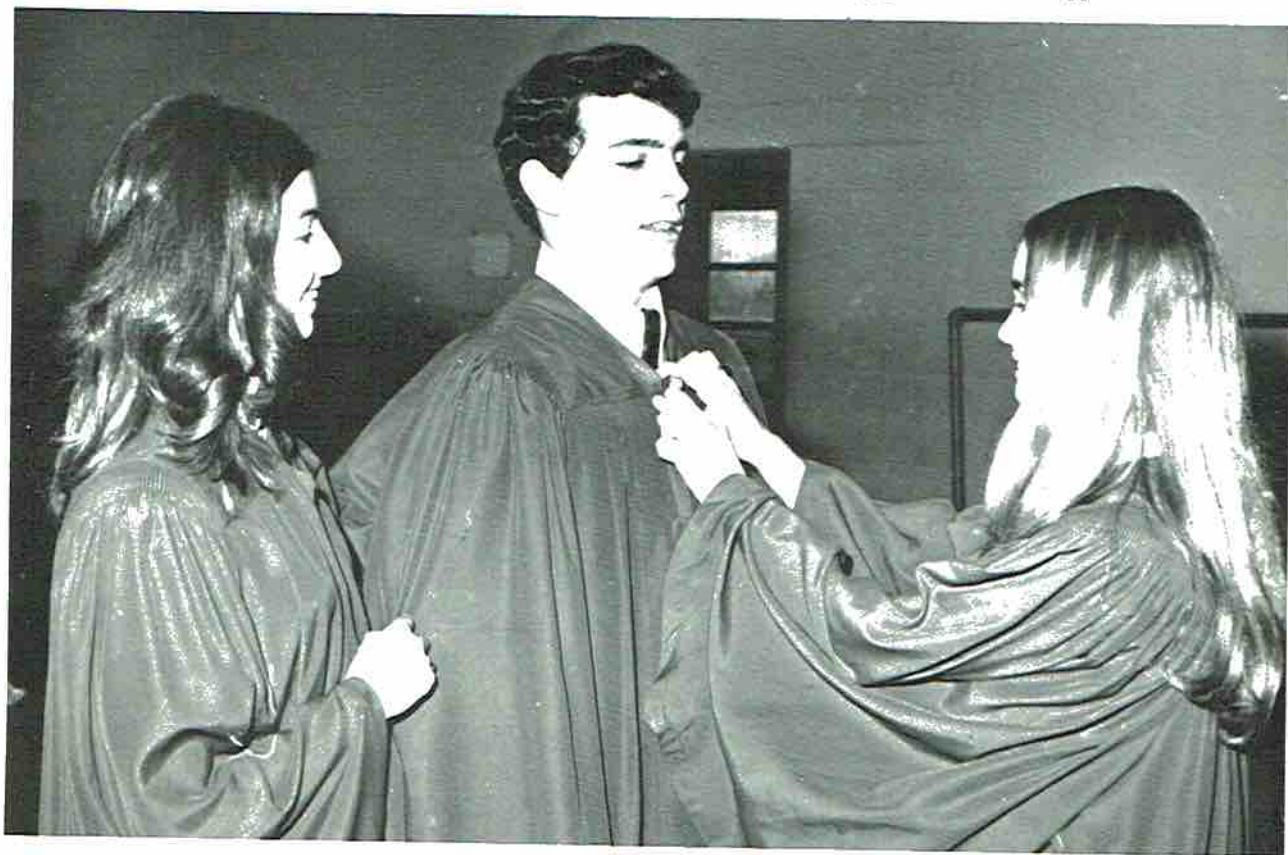

Sargent Bilco?

All I ever wanted to know about WHAT!

My pants are NOT ripped!

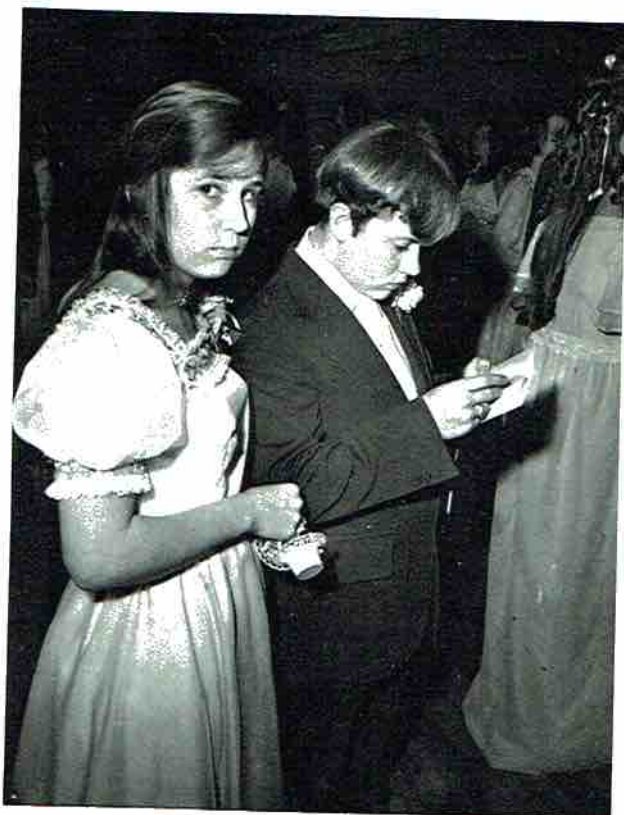

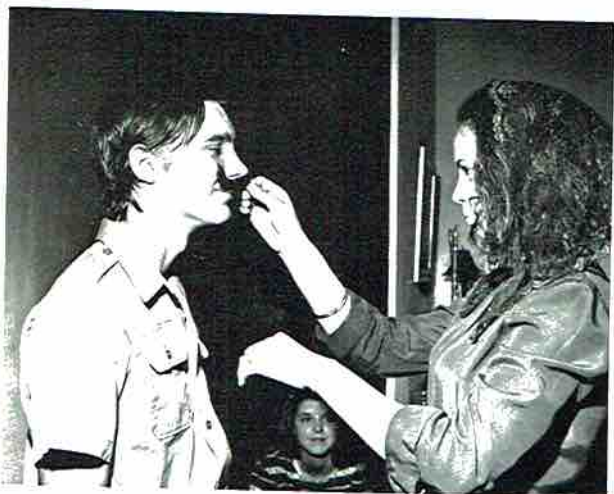

Take it off!

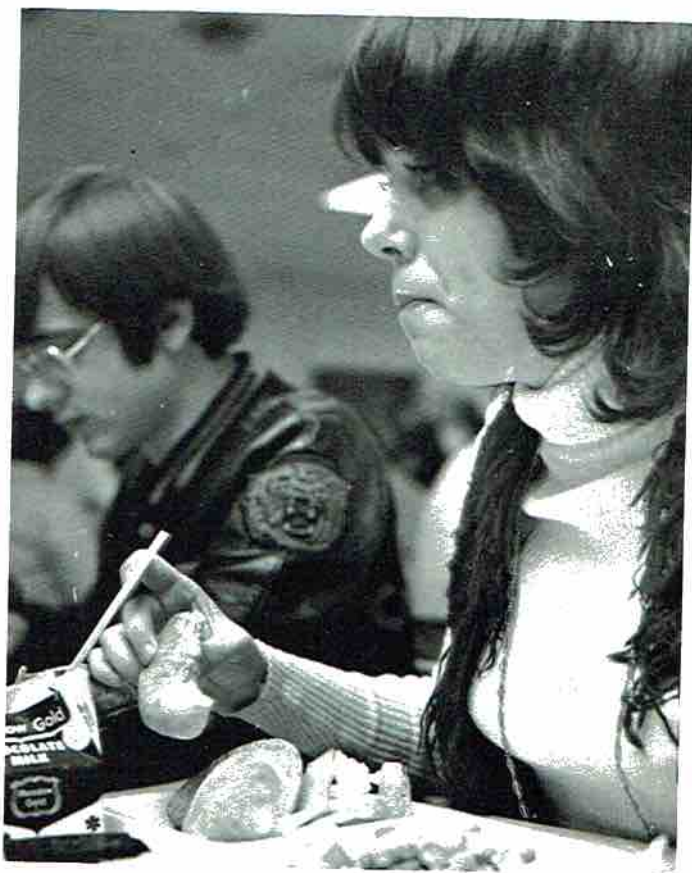

We've got to stop meeting like this!

I had a dream . . .

I can't believe I ate the whole thing!

You saw a WHAT in my soup!
