LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

The 1990-1991 class of Bryant Jr. High School never have and never will have a sound mind, but, to the best of their ability, they have decided to leave the following items to next year's class.

Stefanie Brooks leaves to Alicia Hamilton her ability to shoot foul shots.

Bonnie Guffey leaves her arguing in Mr. Jackson's class to Shana Norris and Heather Snyder.

Craig Dalton leaves Chad Garrett his three-point baskets.

Olivia Laney leaves her three-point basket ability to Amy Lacy.

Stayce Lowrey leaves her love of Auburn to Eric Kirkpatrick and Corey Brooks.

Allison Atkins leaves all the jokes about being short to Aundrea Castleberry and Matt Smith.

Nathan Key leaves his ability to get in trouble in Mr. Cook's class to Jimmy Harison.

Priscilla Key leaves her ability to be friendly to almost everyone to Cassie Jones.

Jamey Morrison leaves his title of "Comedian Without a License" to Jason Nelson.

Stacy Holtzclaw leaves her bad girl image (although she's an angel in disguise) to Becky Lawman.

Heather Tinker leaves her ability to match and coordinate colors to Jeremy Stewart.

Jeremy Henson leaves his ability to fall down everytime someone trips him to Chris Reeves.

Scotty Rogers leaves his ability to block a basketball shot to Jimmy Bradford.

Philip Decker leaves his Tennessee loyalty to Jamie Jimenez.

Carrie Hill leaves her quiet ways to Jeremy Hawkins.

Chad Hill leaves his long hair to Dustin Sims.

Angela Usry leaves her big mouth to Dwight Talley.

Jason Arnold leaves his ability to get in trouble in the gym to Jeremy Whited.

Finally the eighth grade class leaves, and everyone left behind sighs a big sigh of relief.

CLASS PROPHECY

The town of Bryant has changed much in the twenty years since 1991. The entire 1990-1991 class of Bryant Jr. High has come back here to live. Bryant was recently featured on the television program Current Affair as being the city with the most "odd" inhabitants.

Philip Decker has been elected as the town mayor. All of his old classmates hope the laid-back attitude he had in school will carry over to his political career.

Bonnie Guffey has set up a pediatric clinic for the children of Bryant. She was recently featured in People magazine. The article was entitled "A New Approach to Helping Children: Beating Them Up. Is It Good or Bad?"

Olivia Laney is also a well-known doctor in Bryant. She is a very busy psychiatrist. Her clients share two common problems: their kids have Bonnie as a doctor and they are all graduates of the 1990-1991 class of Bryant.

Heather Tinker has earned quite a reputation as an architect. She has invented a new type of outside toilet, and she is known as the "Porta-Pot Queen."

Stefanie Brooks has a respected job in the community. She has a job in a day care center and is known as Miss Stef. She is trying to influence the kids so that they will not grow up to be like their parents.

Allison Atkins is a graduate of Harvard Law School. It was she who helped Donald Trump reduce his alimony payments and allowed him to live in luxury.

Priscilla Key is Allison's secretary. Although Allison gets credit for all the big deals, everyone in town believes Priscilla is the key to Allison's success.

Carrie Hill has opened a new fashion shop called "The Clothes of the Stars." Every well-known actress/singer visits her shop. Carrie says Cher is her best client.

Stacy Holtzclaw, along with her manager Angela Usry, has accumulated a vast fortune in her career as a mud wrestler. Stacy does all the "dirty" work while Angela collects all the money.

Stayce Lowrey has become a model. She models Barbie clothes for Barbie magazine.

Jamey Morrison and Chad Hill have opened a new teen center. They prefer their customers to be blond and female.

Nathan Key and Jason Arnold have teamed up to travel the world as photographers (they have taken over Olan Mills). Although they are well-traveled, they always come back to Bryant to relax.

Jeremy Henson has taken over a well-known business in town. Formerly known as Cooper's Service Station, it is now known as "Henson's Handy Hang-out".

Craig Dalton, who was short during his days at BJHS, no longer has that problem. He has grown so much he is the leading rebounder for the Chicago Bulls. He is known as "Air Red".

Scotty Rogers is another star athlete of the community. He played for the Alabama Crimson Tide. In the Iron Game against Auburn, Scotty rushed for a minus 326 yards and fumbled six times. Luckily, Bama still won!!!

Yes, the town of Bryant certainly has changed since 1991 due to its new inhabitants.
