LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

Finally the time has come for the eighth grade to leave Bryant School. Some go willingly while others think they might like to stay awhile. So that they won't be forgotten, the students would like to leave the following items to the members of the seventh grade.

JEREMY LEONARD AND JEREMY GILLIAM would like to leave their height to Bryan Crowell. They think Bryan would like to be taller.

CHANNING GRIMES AND JASON DOBBS leave Shaun Grimes the ability to get caught while talking in class. This probably has to do with the fact that Channing and Shaun are brothers.

SKIP SEABOLT leaves Nick Kohlmeier the ability to get out of class whenever he wants to.

JOY ATCHLEY AND MANY COOPER leave Holly Clark the ability to flirt more than any other girl in class although they are not sure whether Holly needs in help in this department.

CARRIE SMITH leaves to Samantha Forshee her nickname of "Cow Bell". Carrie has never liked the name and she wants someone else to have it.

AMY HULVEY AND CINDY SMITH leave to Amanda Hamilton their big mouths. Don't they know Amanda doesn't need any help in this department?

LAURA HANES leaves Jennifer Bethune her ability to get out of study hall two days per week to help teachers.

NICK CORNELISON leaves to Scotty Clark his skill in raising cattle. Nick has the reputation as a skilled cattle grower. MIKE SCOTT has the same idea. Mike leaves to Ricky Tripp his farming abilities. Mike has helped on the farm for the past two years and he wishes to pass his knowledge on to Ricky.

CHRIS SHOEMAKE leaves Ricky Hill his Miami Hurricane shirt, cap, and coat. Chris wants Ricky to carry on the Hurricane tradition.

LEANNE CARDIN leaves her funky way of dressing to Stacey Arrington. As of right now, the two girls have decidedly different modes of dress.

COURTENAY SLAY AND MELISSA STONE are going to be of tremendous help to Cheryl Hamilton and Nicole Pittman. Courtenay and Melissa are leaving their quite ways to the seventh grade girls. The teachers certainly want to thank Courtenay and Melissa.

JOSH McCLURE leaves to Alicia Blevins his goofy ways. Does this mean that Josh won't be using them anymore?

GORDON ELLIS leaves to Shannon Stevens his bookbag. Maybe this will encourage Shannon to carry some books and to do some studying.

LORI HILL AND LINDSAY CARDIN leave Devona Elliott and Corinne Lemons the ability to know exactly when to pass notes to each other so that the teachers don't see anything.

ASHLEY FETTER leaves to Jeremy Oliver and John Snyder the ability to hang on the basketball net during p.e. Ashley does, however, want to warn the boys that this can be dangerous.

STEPHANIE BAKER leaves to Jonathan Spurgin her ability to sing with the understanding that it can happen only in math class.

BREONNA GANT leaves to David Raines the ability to wear shorts during the winter and not freeze to death. How does Breonna do that?

ADAM ELROD leaves to Lynn Marona his absences from school. Adam uses his when he's sick, but Lynn would like to get out that often to go to Alabama football games.

And, so, the eighth grade leaves never to be forgotten — NOT!

CLASS PROPHECY

"My, how time flies." This statement never seemed more true than a couple of days ago when I, an old and retired teacher, was "cordially" invited to the 1994 eighth grade class of Bryant School. As I talked to these former students, I was surprised and often amazed at the twists their lives had taken.

LAURA HANES, ever the diligent student, had completed her studies at Oxford School of Medicine and now owns her own pharmaceutical company.

AMY HULVEY has her own beauty shop called "Hulvey's Hut of Hair." The doors of her shop are constantly swinging open.

MELISSA STONE AND STEPHANIE BAKER now live lives of luxury. They each married a Dallas Cowboy pro-football player and spend their days trying to decide how to spend their husbands' money.

JOSH McCLURE AND SKIP SEABOLT have teamed up to form a veterinarian partnership. People from all over the world bring their beloved pets to the giant Bryant-based animal hospital.

GORDON ELLIS, who was always late to class because he was "in the office", now spends all his time there. He is the principal of Bryant School.

MIKE SCOTT has finally put his size 13 shoes to good use. He uses them in his profession as a professional basketball player. He has replaced Shaq as the most sought after professional player.

JEREMY GILLIAM is now a millionaire. He is known as the "Chicken King". He now has one hundred chicken houses which he sees after.

NICHOLAS CORNELISON has also made millions as a successful eye surgeon. LORI HILL is his medical assistant and LEANNE CARDIN is his receptionist. LeAnne and Lori are responsible for part of Nick's success.

JEREMY LEONARD, never one to sit quietly, has just made sports history. He participated on teams which won the World Series, the Super Bowl, and the NBA Championship — all in the same year. Although Jeremy played on the Super Bowl team, CHRIS SHOEMAKE gets the majority of the credit. Chris played the positions of quarterback, halfback, tail back, center, guard, . . .

ADAM ELROD has traveled extensively on each of the seven continents in his career as a composer of classical music. His latest song "Bryant Lullaby" has sold one million copies.

ASHLEY FETTER has become a major asset to the United States because of his diplomatic and easy-going ways. He is now an ambassador to the Far East, the Far West, the Far North, and the Far South.

CHANNING GRIMES, who was often responsible for putting up and taking down the flag while at Bryant, has carried that responsibility into the future. He is the official flag person at all national affairs at the White House.

CINDY SMITH enjoys her occupation as the head nurse in the cardiovascular unit of Bryant Hospital. She has earned quite a reputation as a caring and compassionate nurse.

BREONNA GANT, LINDSAY CARDIN, MANDY COOPER, JOY ATCHELY, CARRIE SMITH, AND COURTENAY SLAY all co-host the most popular talk show in the Los Angeles area. Their guests include, of course, the biggest and hottest hunks of the area.

ROXANNE KILGORE, who joined the class in the eighth grade, has continued moving about. She has lived in all fifty states, on all seven continents, and even has plans to be the first woman to live in a space station.

Who would have thought back in 1994 that the graduates of Bryant would have contributed so much to the future??

Sally WHAT?

"Get over it," says Haley Cardin.

"Do you have a problem?" demands Joy Atchley.

"Go ahead; stare all you want," grumbles Jeremy Leonard.

"Don't worry! It's only a doll; it won't bite," says Erica West.

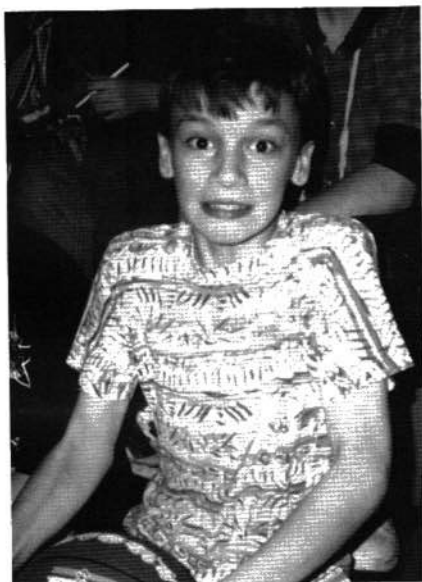

Gordon Farmer wants to know, "What are you looking at?"

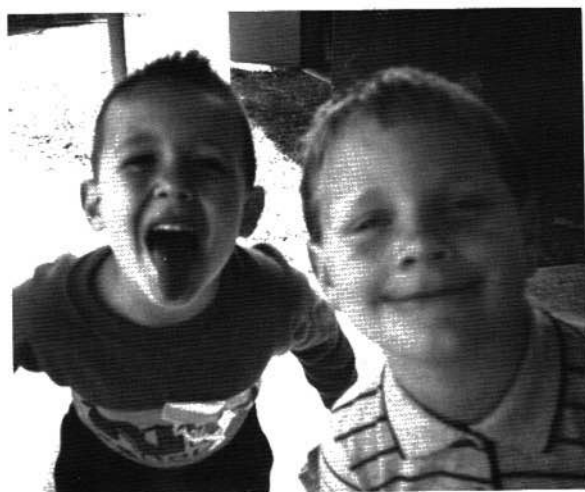

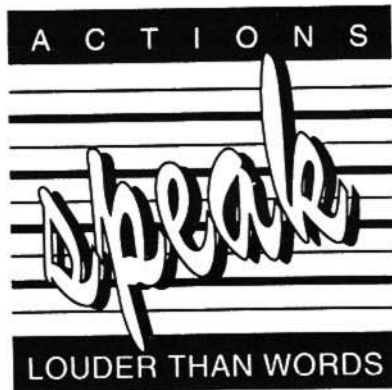

WHAT'S THE
DEAL

"I love my life!" declares Jeremy Elliott.

Josh Parham complains, "Oh, no! She got me!"

Jonathan Johnson and Dustin Finlayson explain, "What can we say? We love the camera."

Brandy Ellis and Kay Pleasant say the obvious, "We're just hanging around."

Shannon Townson asks Amanda Griffith, "Are we really going to have our picture made?"

"What, I guess you're wondering, am I doing with this football?" asks Michael Bradford.

"Well, I do have a perfectly good reason for being on my knees," says David Whitley.

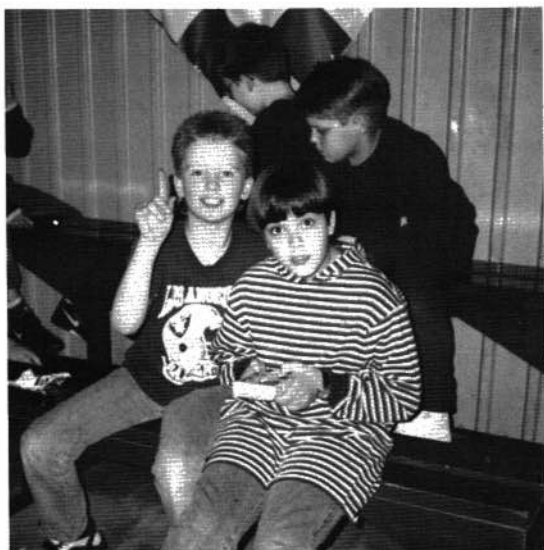

Michele Boyd asks, "He did what?"

Brandi Spears says, "I don't know who put this game in my hands!" Adam Cooper states, "I did it!"

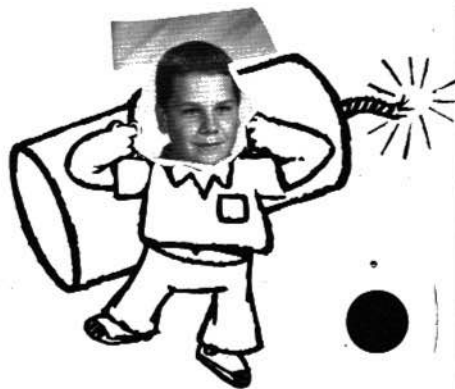

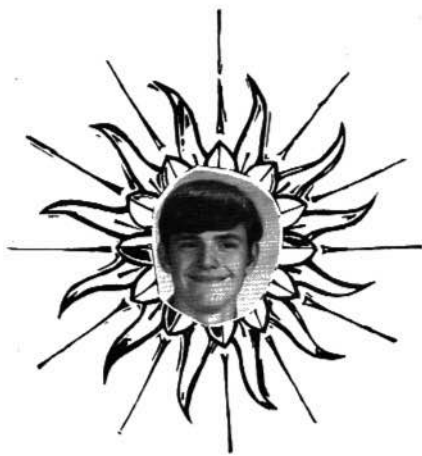

Jennifer Moore says, "Yes, I can smile for the camera."

Haley Cardin, Yolanda Bethune, and Jessica Woosley exclaim, "We can't believe that happened"

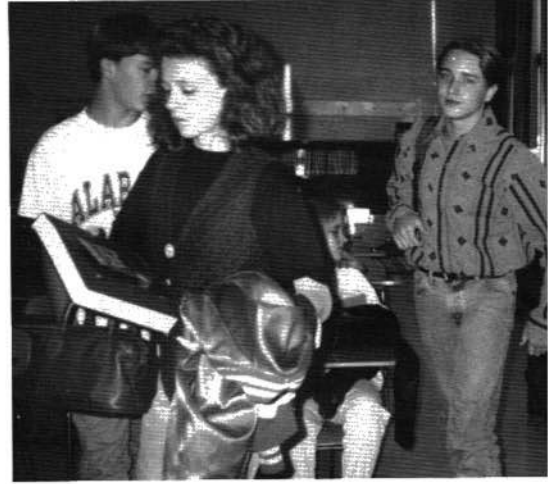

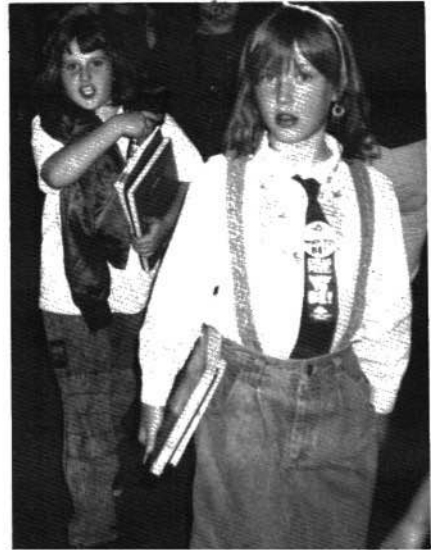

To the question, "WHAT'S YOUR FAVORITE TIME OF THE DAY?" most students replied, "WHEN IT'S TIME TO GO HOME!"

Ashley Fetter, LeAnne Cardin, and Nick Cornelison are leaving their last class of the day.

Brodie Rogers and Rebecca Sutton certainly have big smiles as they leave to go home.

It appears Bridget Gan and Cassie Blevins have homework.

Cheryl Hamilton and Holly Clark don't seem to be in a hurry.

Jordan Slay looks as if he has had a rough day.

“ YOU CAN QUOTE ME ON THAT ! ”
