1997 Paint Rock

Many tears were shed as the Class of 1997 said their goodbyes to their high school days. Most were not hesitant to face a different set of challenges, others were reluctant to say farewell.

Lester Jones and Crystal Courington ushered the graduating Seniors to the stage. Heather Thompson first recited the Pledge of Allegiance. Melba Bingham then gave the Invocation, which included verses 1-8 of Ecclesiastes 3. Salutatorian Ashley Lynch gave a tearful and touching speech in which she thanked her parents and grandparents. Valedictorian Tonya Morris seemed undaunted by the prospect of a different world as she gave her speech. Guest Speaker was Dr. Mary Jane Caylor. The 1997 Grads then finally stepped onto the floor, tossed their hats in the air, and said their tearful goodbyes.

Tommy receives his long-awaited diploma.

A nervous and excited Chris is adjusted by Mrs. Payton.

1997 PRV Graduates: Happy to be free at last!

Their last moments at PRV.

Senior Class Officers: Chris Bailey, President; Christy Williams, Vice-President; Melba Bingham, Secretary and Treasurer.

Harvest Festival

This year our annual Harvest Festival was the most attended ever. People crammed into the Auditorium for a fun night of games, food, and socializing.

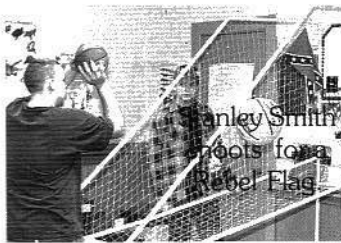

Melba Bingham was crowned Harvest Festival Queen by last year's Queen, Carla Mullican. Tiffany Treece captured the Junior High crown. Amber Schuelke and Lashay Childress won the Elementary crowns.

The highlight of the evening was the "Jail" activity. For fifty cents, you could have someone "arrested" and thrown into the "slammer" for thirty minutes. Some people didn't wish to stay, so they had to pay a bail of one dollar. The PRV Cheerleaders sponsored and worked at the event to pay for new uniforms.

Melanie Lee gets all spiffed up for the pageant.

The Harvest Queen Contestants: Heather Thompson, winner Melba Bingham, and Christy Williams

Stanley Smith shoots for a Rebel Flag.

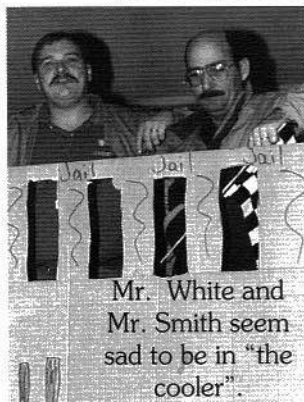

The Winners: Lashay Childress, Melba Bingham, Tiffany Treece, and Amber Schuelke.

Many, many people!!

Ryan Putman shoots for a checkered flag.

Mr. White and Mr. Smith seem sad to be in "the cooler".

Dianne Sisk enjoys the festival.

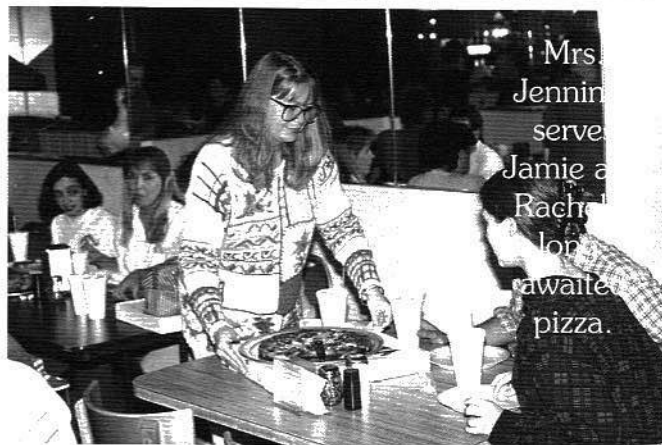

Dr. Wright prepares pizza for hungry customers.

Pizza Party!

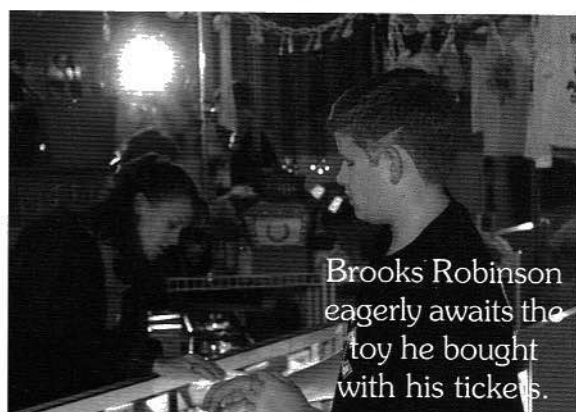

Mary Ruth Bingham shows Dr. Wright who's really the boss!

Mrs. Jennifer serve Jamie and Rachel long awaited pizza.

Melba and Jennifer Bingham enjoy Pizza Party's arcade.

Brooks Robinson eagerly awaits the toy he bought with his tickets.

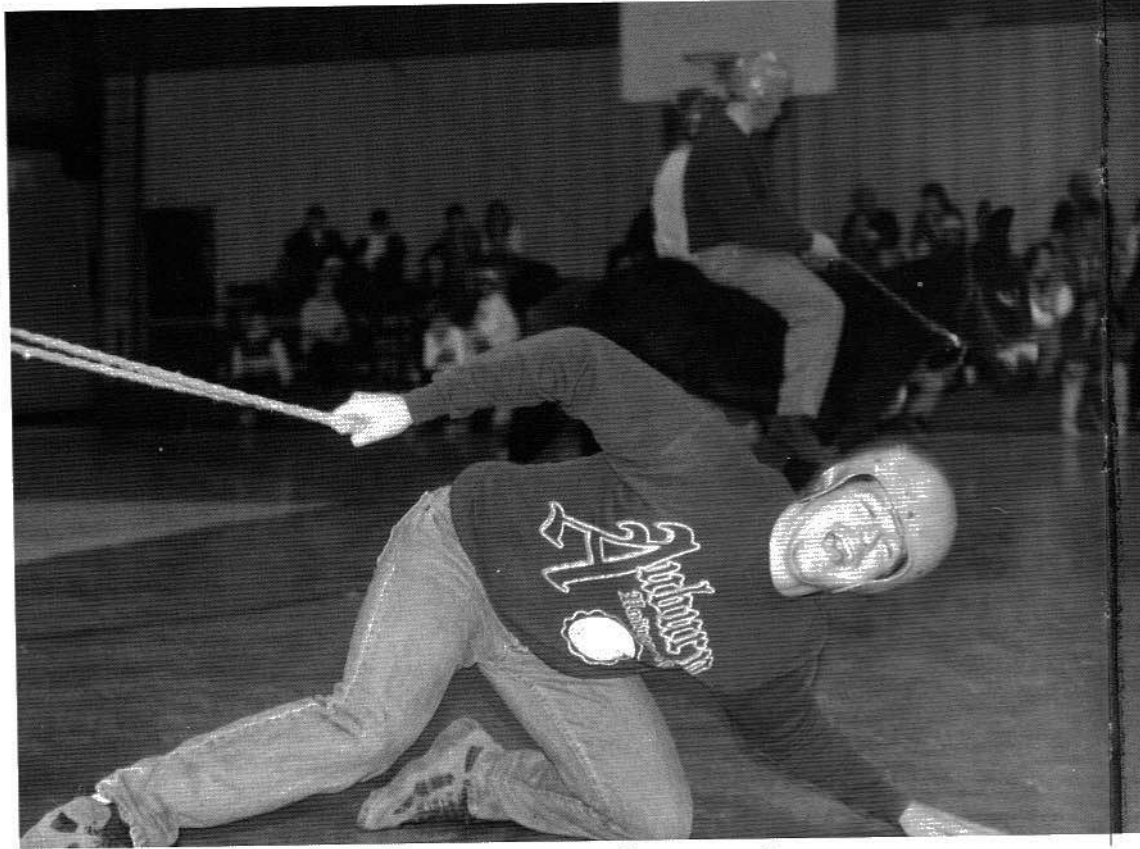

Mikey and the gang goof around as usual.

This year Mrs. Payton held a fund-raiser at Pizza Party, U.S.A. for the annual. Many students, teachers, and parents came out to help cook and serve the food. The fund-raiser was a great success, all thanks to the volunteers!

Donkey Ball

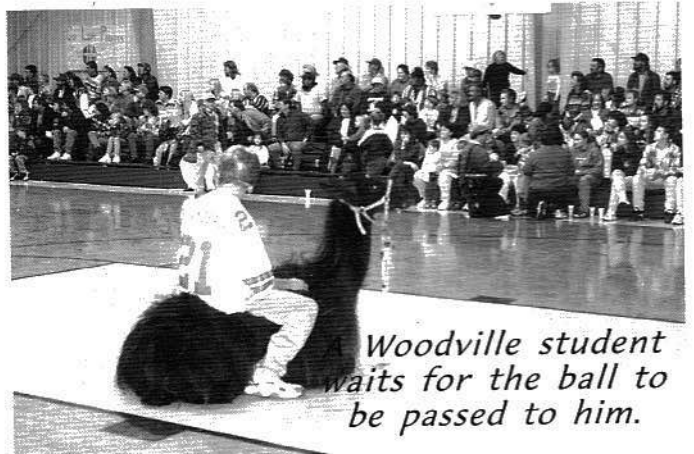

This year we played a Donkeyball game to raise money for the annual. Students and teachers alike volunteered their time to ride these stubborn donkeys. Woodville High School played against us. Although they gave us a good run for our money, we eventually won the game.

Mr. McBride takes a nasty but amusing spill from his donkey.

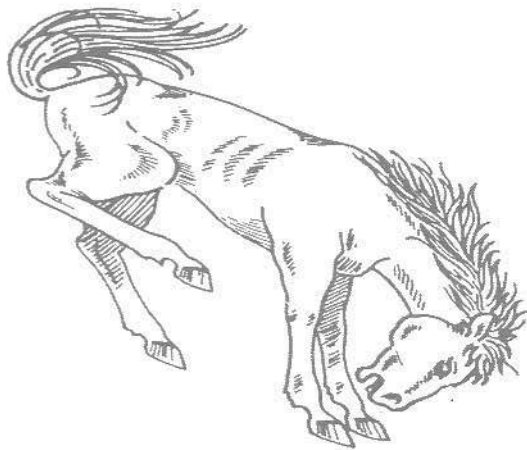

A llama waits to be ridden for the game.

A Woodville student waits for the ball to be passed to him.

Some thrills, chills,
and spills:

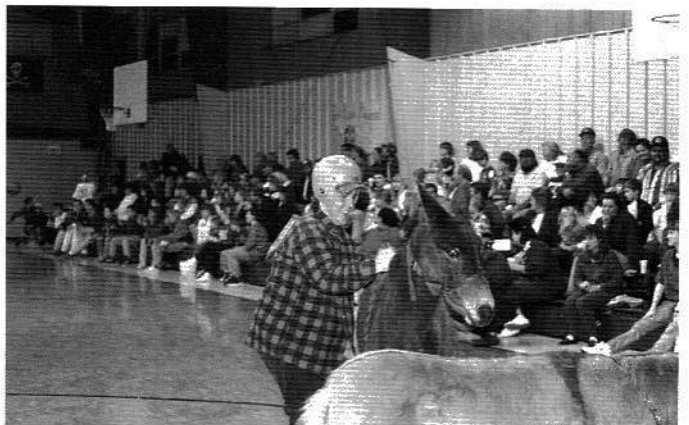

Derek McGill struggles to move his stubborn donkey across the court.

Chris Thompson tries to hang on.

A Woodville student takes it to the hoop.

Tommy Swafford tries to steady his donkey to jump back on.

"Lola Big Cups", with "Barbarino"

Getting down to the Macarena

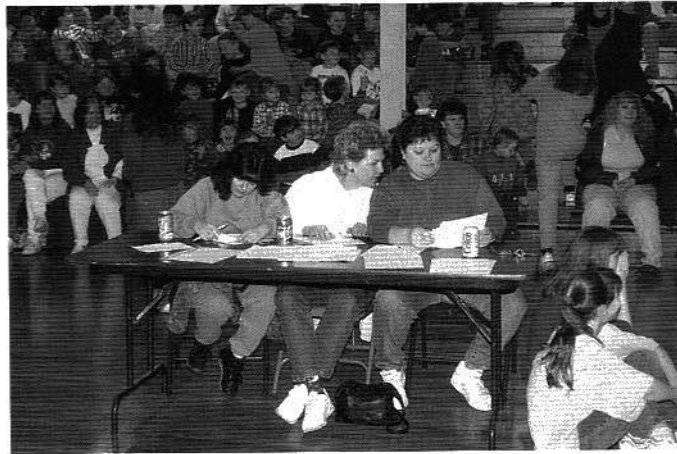

The Winners: Looking good, girls!!

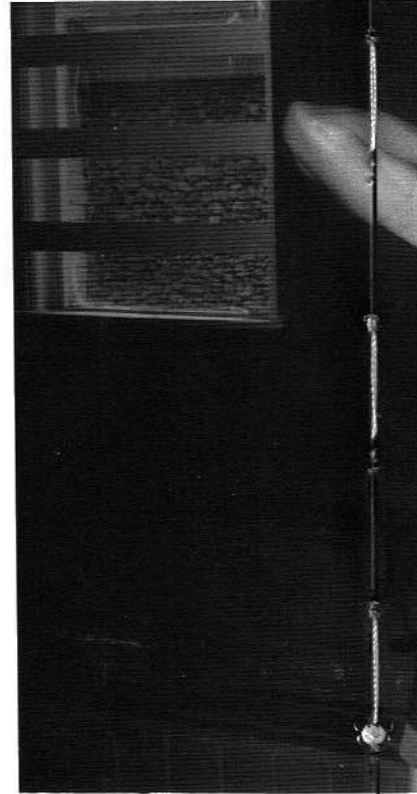

"Mrs. Jack Sprat," or Lester Jones, strikes a pretty smile.

The judges deliberate. There were many beautiful "girls" to choose from.

These "girls" radiate as they wish to win the crown.

"Bosom Buddies"

The shiny, happy contestants

UGLY

WALK

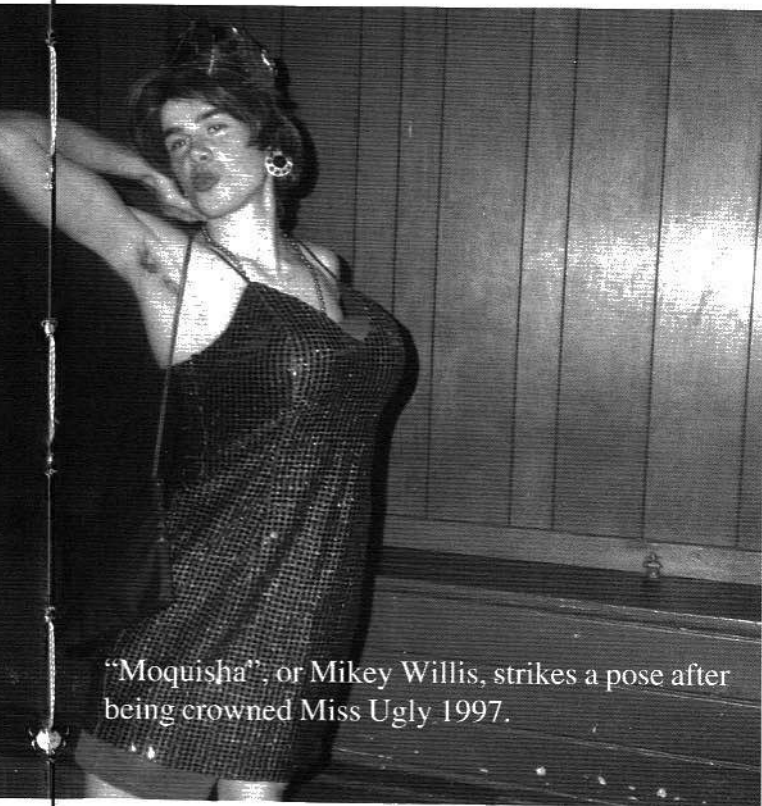

Many interesting "girls" showed their stuff to compete for the coveted title of Miss Ugly 1997. Though only one "girl" was lucky enough to take the crown, all of the contestants were special.

The pageant was the first ever held at PRVHS. Contestants came from grades 7-12. The "girls" had to dance the Macarena and answer questions to win.

"I thought I had it won," says "Sharon" bitterly. "But it was all rigged for Moquisha to win."

Many of the losing "girls" were jealous. "I know I looked better than her," says "Debbie".

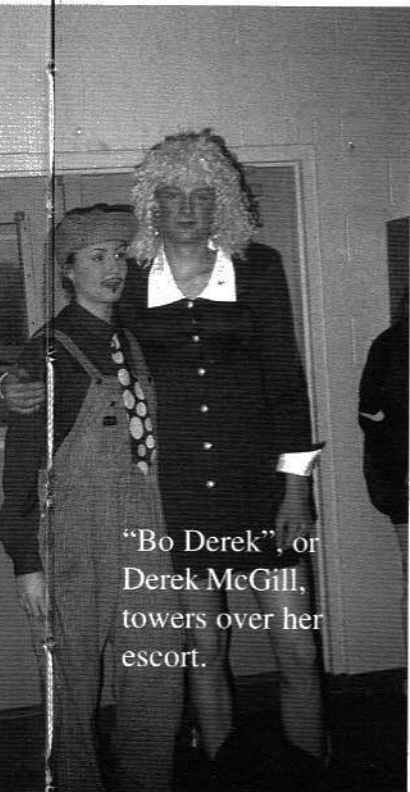

But not everyone was a loser. "Moquisha", who captured the title of Miss Ugly 1997, beamed with pride as "she" was congratulated. She only had one thing to say: "If Elaine Lamons had competed, there would have been no chance for me to receive this honor."

"Moquisha", or Mikey Willis, strikes a pose after being crowned Miss Ugly 1997.

"Debbie", or David Baker, glows with beauty.

"Bo Derek", or Derek McGill, towers over her escort.

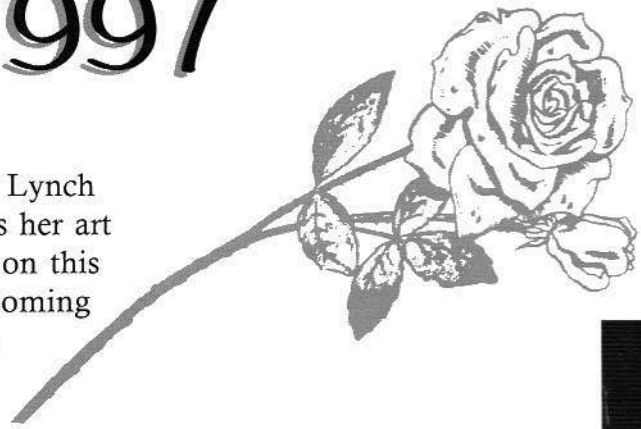

"Sharon", or Aaron Hinshaw, wonders, "How could I not win?"

Cheerleaders

Although this school hasn't had a Cheerleading Squad in over ten years, these girls made up the lost time by holding a pep rally and cheering at the Homecoming game.

Rebecca Vandiver seems angelic as she pauses at the Pep Rally.

The Class of 1997

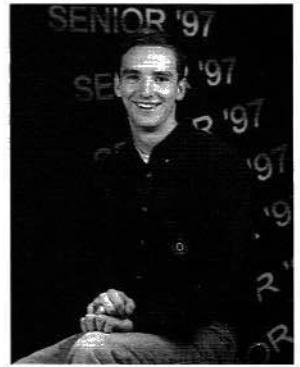

Christopher Keith Bailey

Chris

I, Chris Bailey, being of "Newtonian" mind and weary body, leave the following: Seriousness to my brother Michael; and my golf ability & love to Lisa Vandiver.

I, Melba Bingham, will the following: To Jennifer Bingham, my "la-la shang-shangs", to Rachel McKenzie, my basketball abilities.

Melba

Melba Jean Bingham

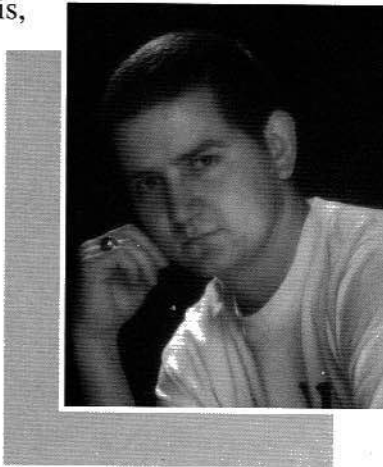

Amanda Lynn Kouk

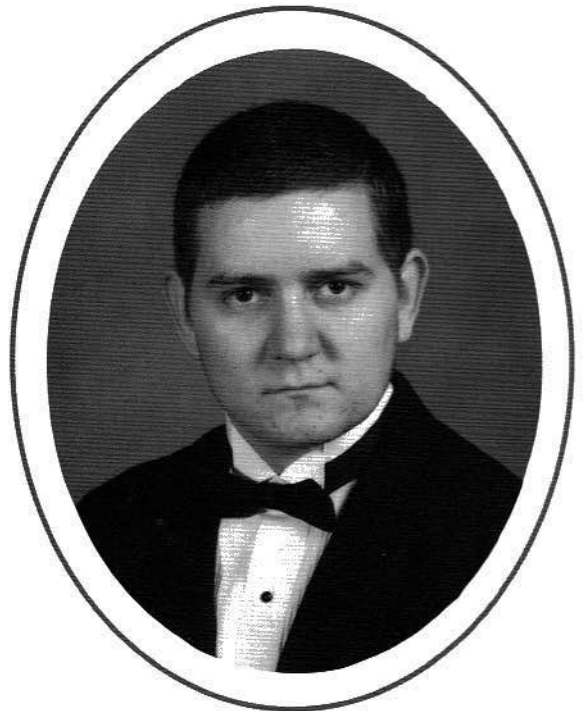

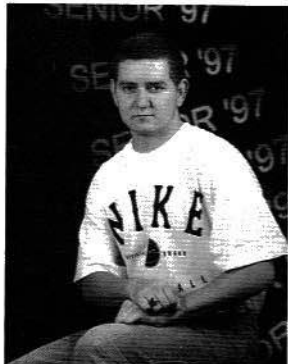

Amanda

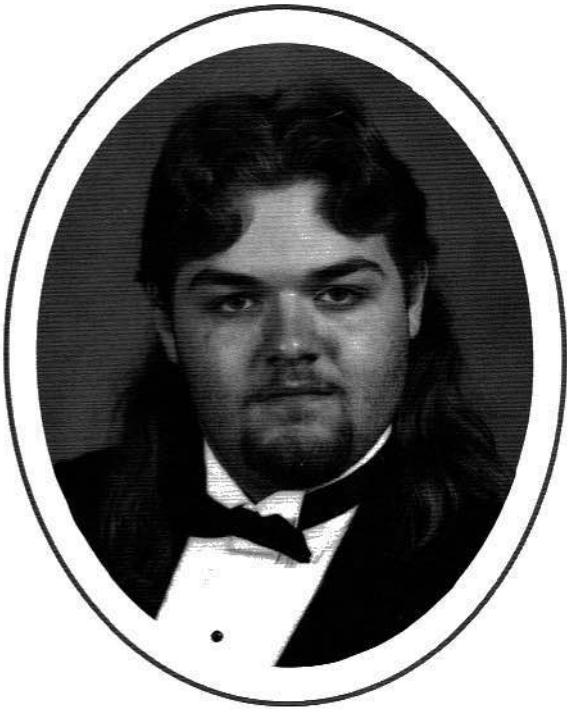

I, Josh Jones, will to David Baker the ability to go to a game without 100 turnovers. To Mikey Willis, a little more talent.

Josh

Joshua Adam Jones

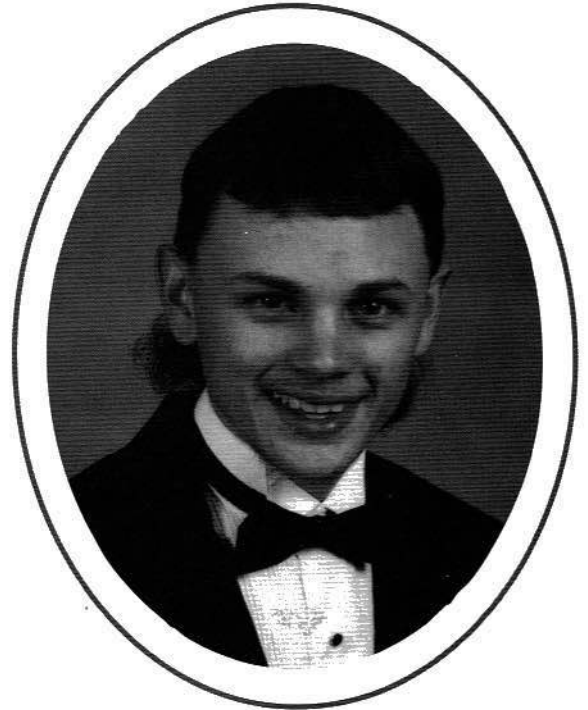

Jason Andrew Justice

Jason

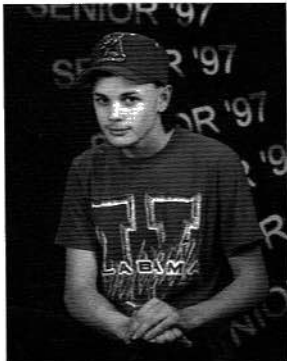

I, Jason Justice, leave all my remaining belongings to Patrick Baker, Emily Gurner, Sarah Ann Gurner, and Ashley Baker. Oh, and throw a BIG PARTY when I leave.

Tony Wade Lee

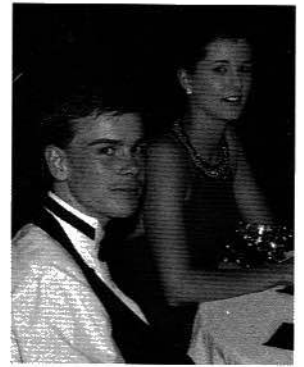

Tony

Salutatorian

Ashley

Ashley Nicole Lynch

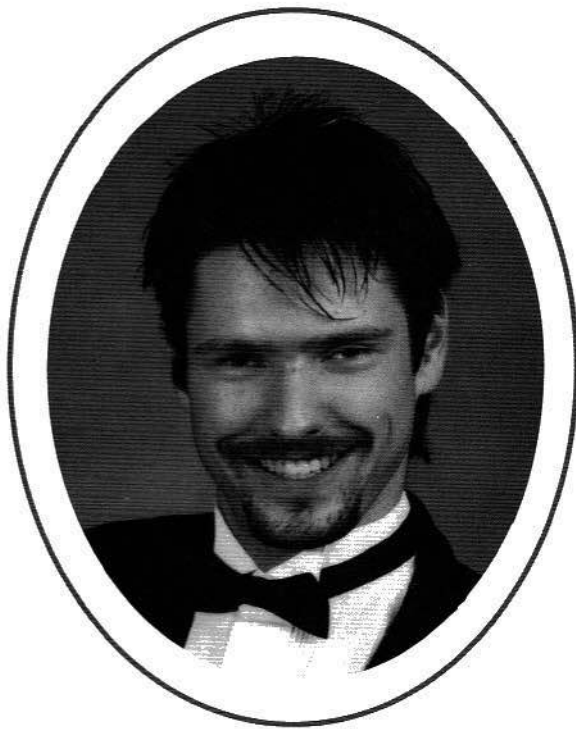

I Ashley Lynch, being of tipsy mind and weary body, will the following: To Natasha Childress, my immense athletic ability and an unforgettable friendship; To Crystal Courington, my book smarts so she can continue to be "smarter than the average girl" and have a great senior year.

Valedictorian

Tonya

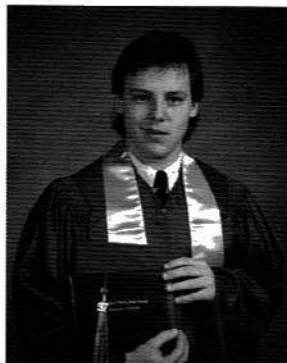

Tonya Joy Morris

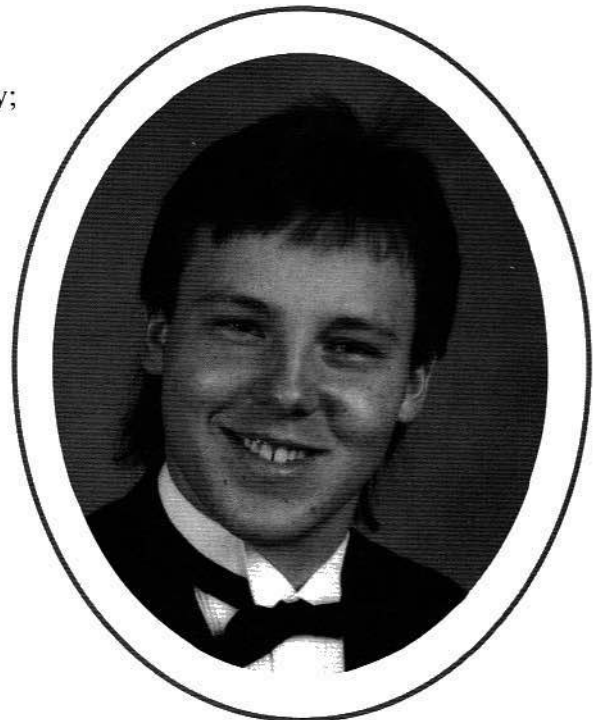

Scott

Scott Merritt Robertson

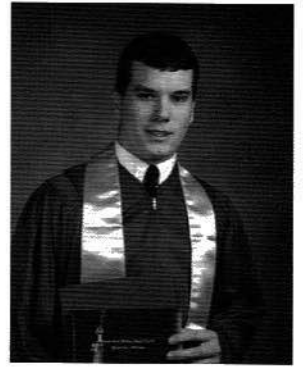

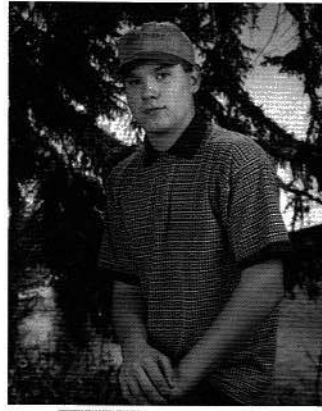

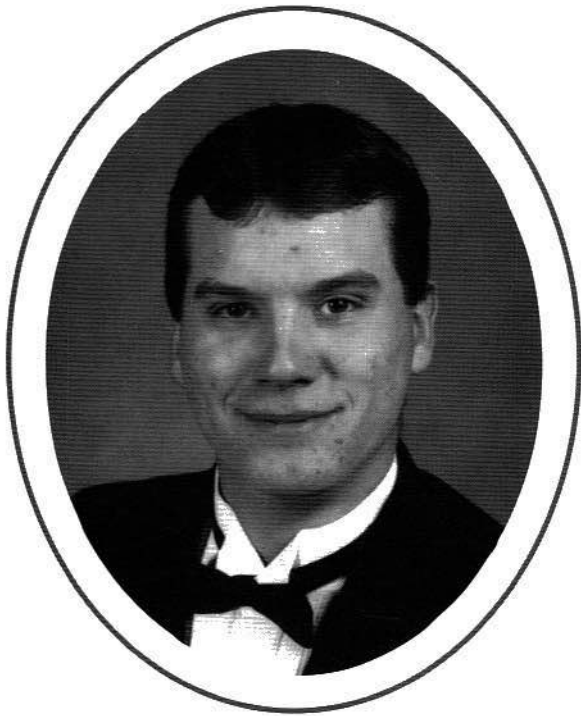

I, Tommy Swafford, leave my ability to play guitar to Mikey; my bench time to Stanley; what little looks I have to David Baker because he'll need them. And to all of my friends I leave my good-byes.

Tommy

Thomas Jay Swafford

Chris

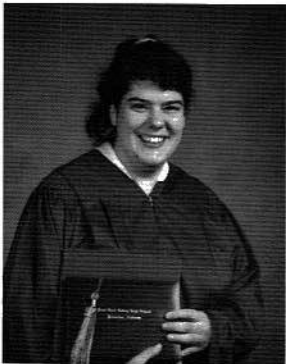

I, Chris...

Christopher Edward Thompson

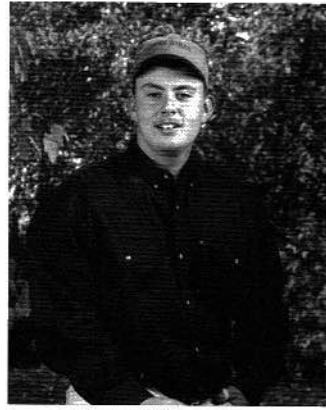

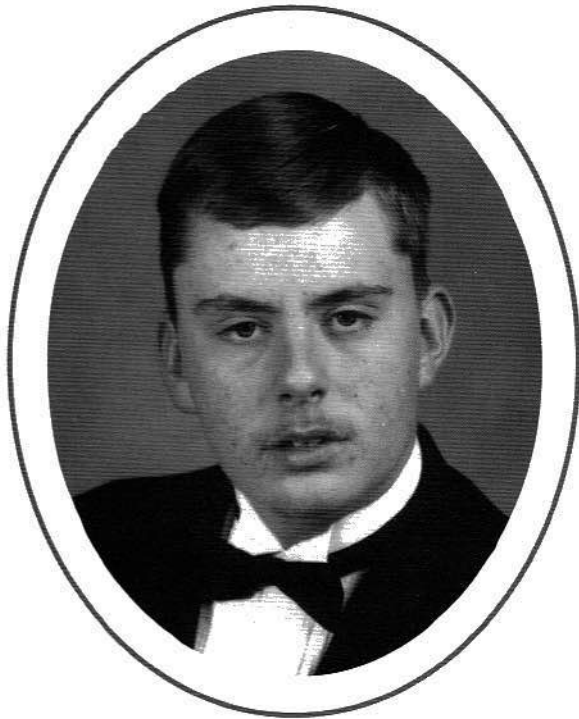

I, Heather Thompson, being of goofy mind and "could be worse" body, leave the following: To Rachel McKenzie, all of my friendship; To April Thompson, the ability to run errands for the office in record time; and to Mr. Sean McLennan, a world full of smiles.

Heather

Heather Dawn Thompson

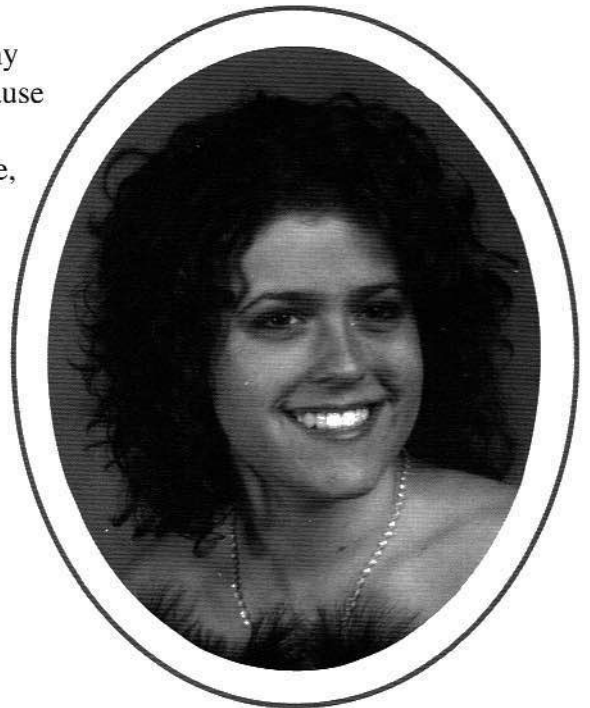

Adrian

Adrian Wayne Webb

I, Christy Williams, being of absent mind and body, leave my sense of humor to Crystal Courington and Angie Flippo 'cause God knows they need it; my safe driving ability to Rachel McKenzie and Kat (even if he doesn't use it); and to no one, my ability to ditch school most of the year and still graduate.
