From Beginning--

Dedication

On behalf of the student body, the Annual Staff dedicates the 1960-61 edition of THE MOUNTAINEER to the parents, teachers, and other patrons of Section School for their long and tireless efforts to give us an excellent school plant and equipment. Over the past few years they have given, worked, and solicited to realize a dream and fulfill a need for this area. May the goal be reached ere the 60-61 school year draws to a close.

In the Classroom . . .

"The beginning is the most important part of the work." Agreeing with Plato, our beginning shows the search for knowledge in the classroom. Other activities are relegated to their proper place.

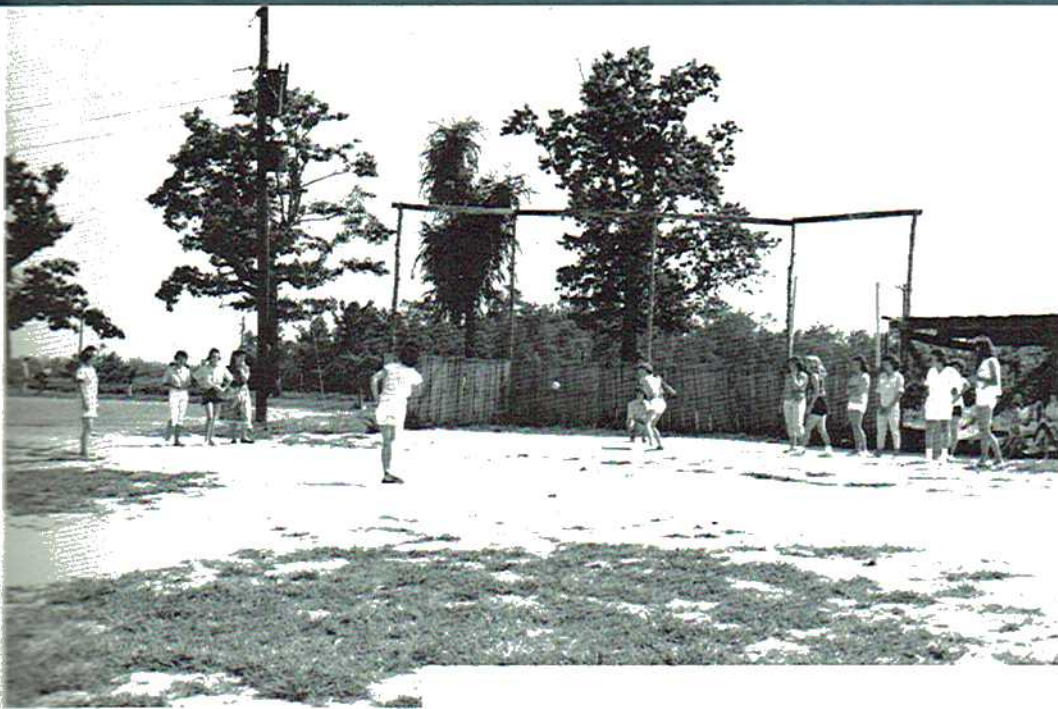

Larry Holland, Jimmy Carson, Raymond Long, Roy Long, Arnold Johnson, and Eddie Anderson explore the mysteries of Physics with inclined planes.

At right, Buford Baldwin and Mary Ambrester find there's lots of lab work involved in Biology as they study microscopic life.

Mrs. Allen, head of the Science Department, indicates parts of anatomy to ninth grade students as Robert Holloway and James Hairston follow in textbooks.

Mrs. Thornhill's Senior II and III Physical Education girls, at left and below, play softball and volleyball. Ball games comprise only a small part of the Physical Education program.

Sock that ball! But don't get too excited. It's just a friendly game between the girls.

"Oops! Didn't quite make it that time. Need some help from the rest of the P.E. girls."

Three strikes you're out! Mr. White's Physical Education boys excel at softball.

Sybil Patterson, Faye Patterson, Mary Ruth Moore, Martha Myers, Carolyn Pass, and Doris Baldwin, advanced Home Economics students, are learning to refinish furniture for the home.

In their Home Economics class, Helen Gentles, Carolyn Johnson, Dorothy Townson, and Betty Lou Phillips have begun sewing for their fall wardrobes. Those tempting cupcakes Bonita Jones is carrying were made with the help of Mary Whitaker, Johnnie Crawford, and Era Hosch.

Deborah Buff recites to an attentive Junior I class under the direction of Mrs. Louise Phillips.

Using their study period to an advantage are these students of the second period study hall: B. F. Wilson, Junior Whitaker, Ann Harris, Douglas Patterson, and Hugo Walden.

"Friends, Romans, Countrymen . . ." Buford Baldwin, B. F. Wilson, Danice Holcomb, Junior Whitaker, Brenda Patterson, Wendell Britt, Rickey Downey, Charles Burton, and other class members get acquainted with Shakespeare in their Sr. I Literature class.

John Outlaw, Linda Wynn, and Mrs. Pearl White, instructor, are shown pointing out the territory included in the Louisiana Purchase to the other members of the American History class.

Senior III Democracy class members Martha Myers and J. B. Smith are shown discussing currency with their teacher, Mrs. Pearl White, and other members of the class. They are comparing the true value of currency today with its value 20 years ago.

Using an original equation, Algebra students Phillip Smith, Myrvle Brown, and Wendell Roden seek the solution to the relative ages of a man and his son. Teacher Melvin Browder lends assistance.

Students in Mr. White's Business Law class are being tested on legal interpretations of everyday problems faced by the ordinary citizen.

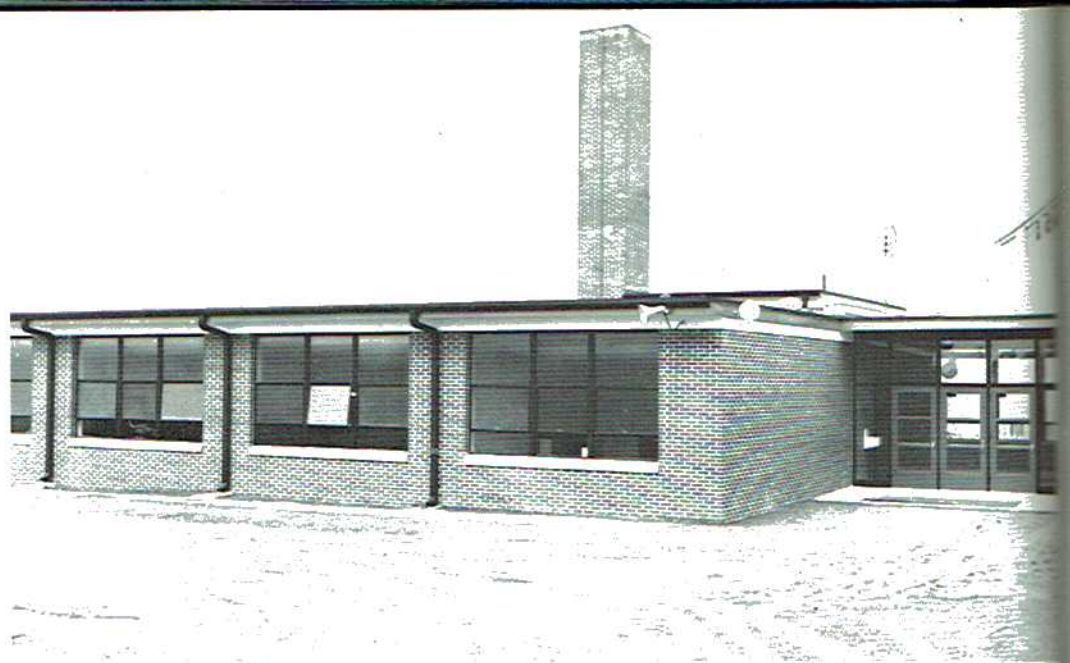

Mrs. Webb dictates as the members of her beginning Shorthand class practice Gregg shorthand.

With the knowledge of the keyboard tucked away in their heads, first-year Typing students aim for the skill of speed and accuracy.

Hallway with handsome globe lights (hidden by grill).

The Home Economics and Science Departments recently moved into this beautiful new laboratory building. Constructed under the State building program from bond issue funds, it is of latest design and equipped with the most modern equipment and fixtures.

Highlight of the annual Harvest Festival is the election of Homecoming Queens. These lovelies had the honor of being the first queens crowned in the new gymnasium. The event combined Homecoming with dedication of the gymnasium and was held on February 17, 1961.

At left, the full Homecoming Court: Queens, Attendants and Escorts.

The theme of the May, '60, banquet was "Oriental Gardens." The dominant red of the color scheme furnished a beautiful background. The atmosphere of the Far East was enhanced by Japanese lanterns and umbrellas, chimes, fans, and gaily nodding tulips.

Latest happenings on the campus are being recorded by Reporters for a forthcoming edition of the school paper, LION'S ROAR.

Fruits of the above labor reach the public through the efforts of the Typing, Production, and Circulation Staffs.

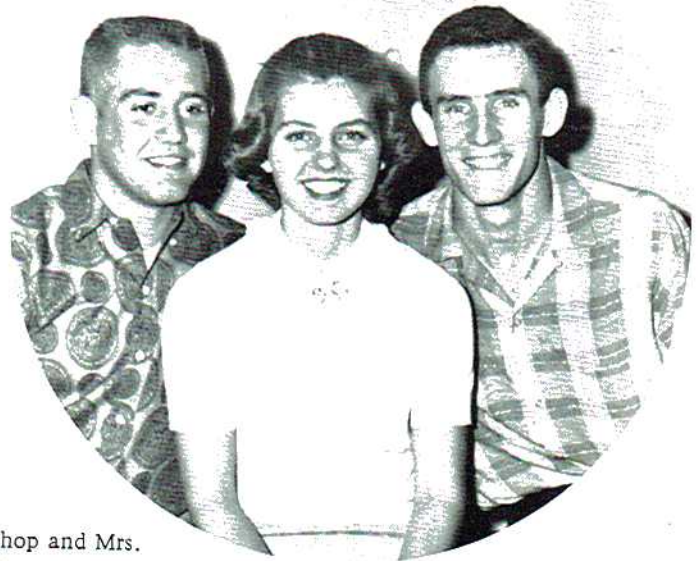

Our Editorial Staff works together for the production of a good '61 MOUNTAINEER.

Right: Carroll Campbell, Editor-in-Chief with Jerry Taylor and Wendell Roden, Business Managers.

Off they go. The Business Staff gets busy selling MOUNTAINEER ads.

Last Will and Testament

We, the Senior Class of Section High School, County of Jackson, State of Alabama, being of sound mind (?), do hereby declare this to be our Last Will and Testament, hereby revoking any and all promises made by us before the present date.

We leave to the Juniors, in order to help them through the trials and extreme difficulties of their last troublesome year of high school, all our arsenal of weapons for school bus and classroom use, consisting of: 2,000 third-and-fourth-handed paper wads, 29 good used rubber bands, 12 straight pins, 7 thumb tacks of our own special design, and four good music-making bobby pins. Although most teachers do not take kindly to the articles listed above, you will find that they are the most widely used goods in the thousands of schools throughout the world.

We hope they do not cause you anything like half the trouble they caused us.

We also make the following individual bequests:

- I, Eddie Anderson, leave my ability to play baseball to John Parks Dukes.
- I, Jimmy Carson, leave my loud mouth in algebra class to Jimmy Dilbeck.
- I, Robert Chaney, leave my ability to give a quick answer to David Fowler.
- I, Lonnie Hancock, leave my big feet to Raymond Long.
- I, Larry Holland, leave my mathematical brain to Dewayne Golden.
- I, Wendell Roden, leave whatever I have that anyone wants to whoever wants it, even Budgy Johnson.
- I, David Rollins, leave my position as hindcatcher in P.E. to Willard Hancock and John Outlaw.
- I, J. B. Smith, leave my ability to get into trouble with the slightest effort to D. W. Haynes and Edward Thomas.
- I, Linda McGriff, leave my reputation of "First to Finish Test" to Carolyn Deerman.
- I, Mary Ruth Moore, leave my ability to catch flies to Gail Nichols.
- I, Lois McKee, leave my quiet ways to Elaine Holder.
- I, Martha Myers, leave my hobby of drawing "girls" to Wilma McCutchen.
- I, Madelyn Nichols, leave my ability to know everything that is going on to Barbara Norwood.
- I, Joy Nix, leave to Roy Long the honor of having the shortest name.
- I, Carolyn Pass, leave my short stature to Lawana Ball.
- I, Faye Patterson, leave my height to Helen Jackson.
- I, Phillip Smith, leave my ability to be "President" to Jimmy Millican.
- I, Mark Strickland, leave my blond hair to John Haynes.
- I, Jerry Taylor, leave my green suede shoes to Roger Culpepper.
- I, Doris Baldwin, leave my giggles to Bonita Jones and Shirley Couch.
- I, Glenda Battles, leave my engagement ring, which I don't know what to do with, to the highest bidder.
- I, Myrvle Brown, leave my neat homework to Rat Moss.
- I, Carroll Campbell, leave my stapler to Rodney Gilbert and Butch O'Neal.
- I, Carroll Carter, leave my ability to write themes to James Wilborn and Linda Wynn.
- I, Lula Mae Clift, leave my happy outlook on life to Glenn Carroll.
- I, Betty Sue Fossett, leave my ability to type accurately to Conna Ann Smith.
- I, Kathryn Galloway, leave my ability to have an answer, whether it is right or not, to Juanita Wigley and Sybil Patterson.
- I, Ann Harris, leave my job on the paper staff to Betty Jo Anderson.
- I, Sue Harper, leave my freckles to Priscilla Black.
- I, Era Hosch, leave my ability to make stuffed animals to Helen Gentles.
- I, Carolyn Johnson, leave my friendly nature to Hilda Davis.
- I, Evelyn Long, leave my typewriter to Bobby Bolt.
- I, Betty Phillips, leave my chewing gum to Peggy Hutcheson and Virginia Justice.
- I, Dorothy Townson, leave my long hair to Carolyn Welborn.
- I, Lynda Walden, leave my ability to do lab work in physics to Robert Sampson.
- I, Mary Whitaker, leave my history grades to Vaughn Lands and Gerald Gray, who need them.
- I, Elizabeth Womack, leave my ability to always find something wrong to Peggy Brown.
- I, Thelma Waldroup, leave my wedding rings to Delia Bray.

In witness whereof, we herein have set our hand and our seal on this the 24th day of May, in the year One Thousand Nine Hundred and Sixty-One.

Alma Mater

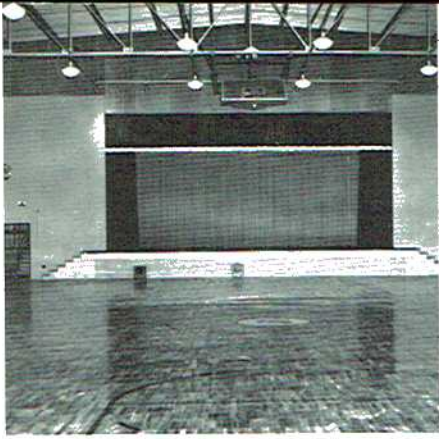

Section High School, how we love you
And we hate to go;
But our duties call us onward
To another goal.

CHORUS

Faithful, loyal, firm and true
In our heart you'll stay
Till in that great land up yonder
We will meet some day.

Memories of our high school days
Linger on and on.
Of our teachers and our classmates
While in life we roam.

So farewell, dear Alma Mater,
We give you the praise
For our fun and education
From our high school days.

This maroon-curtained stage, empty in its newness, seems to await expectantly the future tread of many feet--actors, queens, important speakers.

Principal Roy Buford welcomes graduates at Homecoming and Dedication.

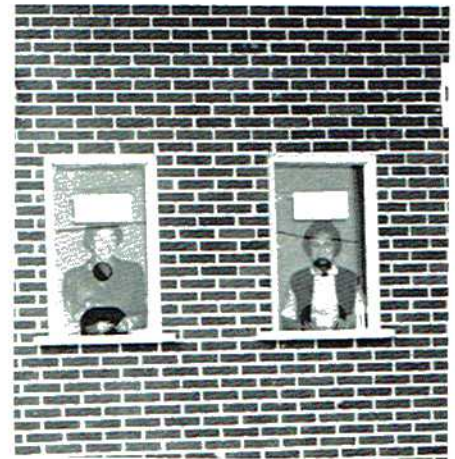

Spaciousness and beauty are evident in this long shot looking toward the many entrance and exit doors at south end of gymnasium.

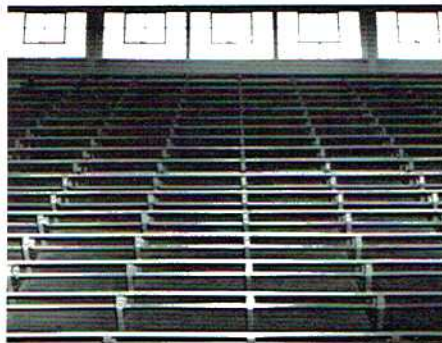

Tan-tiled lobby features display cases, concession stand, fountains, many access doors.

Mrs. Webb and Mrs. White assume new roles in the box office.

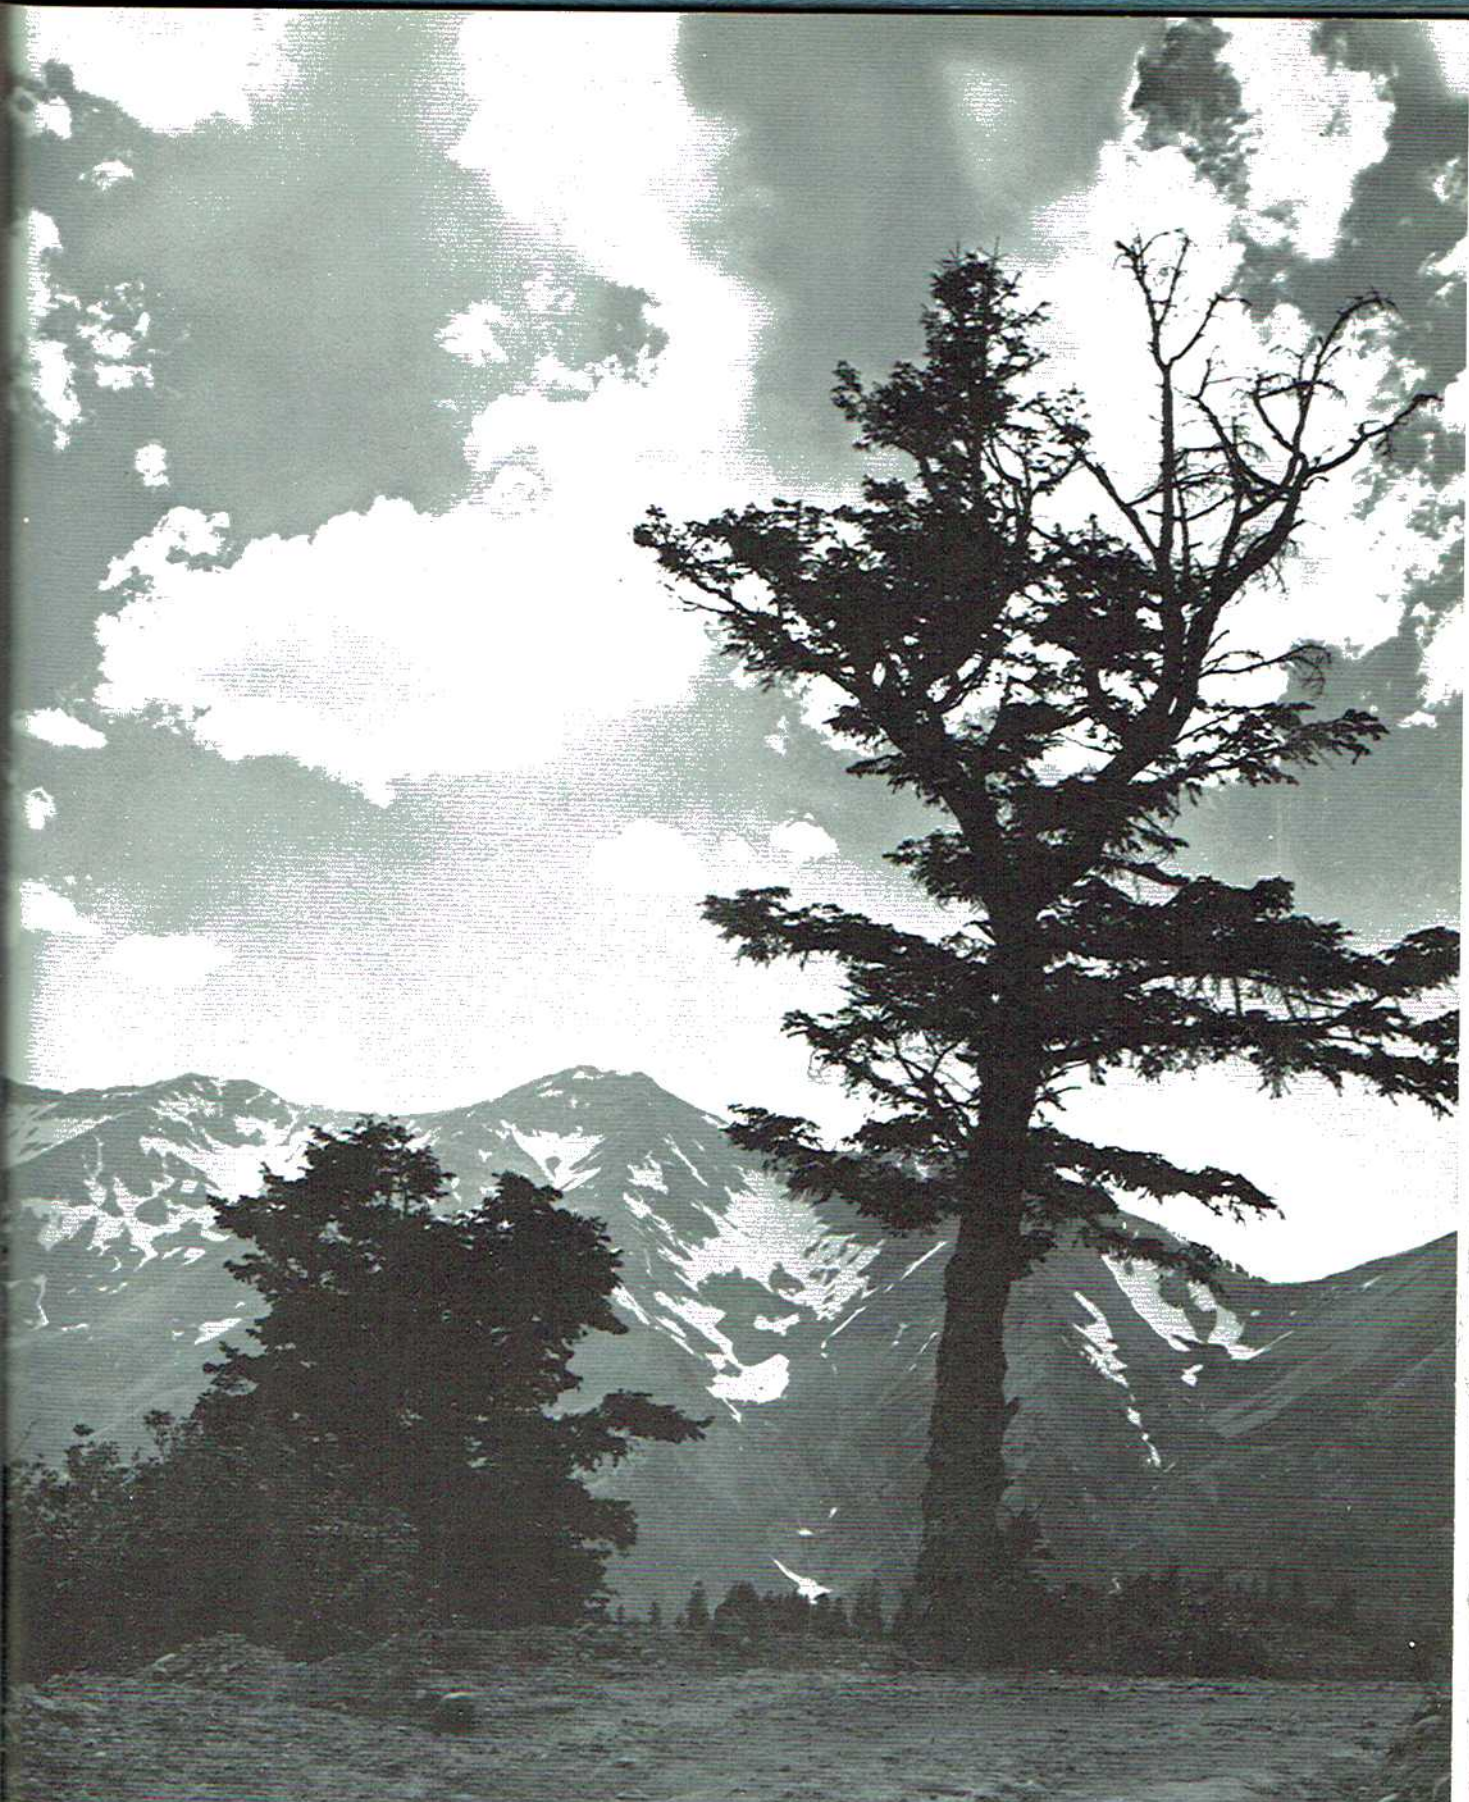

UP--Up--up--row on row of bleachers reach to ceiling windows.

Mrs. Buford and concession stand crew take a short breather before half-time rush.

New Cafeteria, opening off lobby, has a small stage located at front. At rear of picture, doors lead to ample food preparation and storage centers.
