We the yearbook staff have tried to compile a memory book of the '67-'68 school year. This book is not intended to give pleasure only for the present but for many years to come.

As editor of the 1968 Mountaineer, I would like to express my sincere appreciation to all those people who have made this yearbook possible. Most of all I would like to thank the yearbook staff and yearbook advisor without whose help this memoir of our school days would not have been possible. Also credit is due the faculty who has supported us in our endeavor.

Class Prophecy

As we look in on the class of '68 twenty years from the graduation date, we find a cultured, status-seeking group of hippies.

Dr. Ralph Edmonds and consulting specialist Dr. Robert Clemens are explaining and defining the meanings and theories of past civilizations. This is all they have to do because ten years earlier Dr. Larry Thomas and Dr. Gerald Patterson completely wiped out all disease with one simple drug commonly called Phrotoflay. This drug is a mixture of L.S.D. and Snakeroot. The Honorable Jim Jones, the Senate's swinging musician, has recently introduced a law making this drug legal.

Few people realize the importance of government anymore since the election of James Phillips to the White House. Neither do they realize the importance of education now that each child is already more intelligent than the teacher when he enters school. Gail Long, Judy Bramblett, and Rebecca Freeman are head of this "New Education Movement" that has befuddled teachers everywhere. Some say they teach the students more than the teachers just to cause a civil disorder, but just between us, it's because they are concerned with the equality of a six year old child and a thirty-seven year old teacher.

Some of our old cronies have moved to distant lands where we find them living exciting and useful lives. Let us begin on our own continent where we find Jerry Holcomb in Mexico growing "Pot" for shipment to Asbury Height U.S.A. In Canada we see Darrell McAbee leading the Underground Railroad for those of draft age. In Cuba we see Brenda Gillispie as a Havanna cigar roller. In Brazil we see Eddie Jones living it up on the money he borrowed from the bank where he was formerly employed.

Among other vocations, some have chosen writing as a career and have risen to fame and fortune through their intellectual backing at Section. Shirley Bowman has written a comical essay on her job as a pedicurist to the Jolly Green Giant. A more sophisticated novel, The History of Education at Section High, was written by Wanda Justice.

Roy Fred Beam finally made it big when he replaced Hugh Hefner as editor of "Playboy." However, Roy Fred did not let this fame go to his head but remembered his friends by appointing them useful jobs. Donnie Downs now issues "Keys" and J. D. Sargent interviews the new "Bunnies." With all his more important work, Roy doesn't have time for these trivial matters. Soon he will go to London to confer with Kim Adams on how he can help to give a better impression of the United States to other countries. Kim's assistant, Pam Coffey, has just returned from a trip around the world where she acted as a goodwill ambassador. In China, she and Ora Mae Fricks toured the Asian countries where they encountered a group of nonviolent revolutionaries led by none other than Joan Allen. She took them to Tibet where they meditated on a mountain with Brenda Harper, the present groovy Guru. From there Pam traveled to the Middle East where she visited some of her old friends. Carolyn Dukes, head guide of the pyramids in Israel, showed Pam around Cairo where they walked a mile to visit Brenda Edwards, the local camel dealer.

CLASS PROPHECY con't

Upon leaving Israel, she ran into Sandra Hughes. Sandra was there to learn new methods of plucking chickens. Back in London, Pam and her affiliate, Larry Holt, talked to Wanda Golden, a news reporter from the "Old York Times." Mostly they discussed their old friends who just didn't make it. For example, David Moore made it big for the first couple of years and then wham-O! He remembered that he too must pay income tax. Now David is working to pay back taxes at fifty cents a day making automobile license plates. Then there is Glinda Daniel who cleans house for seven children and a husband.

Some of our fellow students have done fairly well for themselves but nothing spectacular. Rodney Kennamer, the local Fuller Brush salesman, is doing okay. Rayford Mays, our six-foot basketball star, demonstrates the convenience of a Volkswagen on television commercials. Heading up the National Babysitting Service is Nancy Clemens. Because of her love for children, she has done well in this business.

Now let us look at the not so lawful side of our classmates and their rewarding futures in crime. First, we have Sheriff Roger Bell who has done quite well in his little business. Janice Fricks is now the delegate to the United Nations representing the Mafia. Martha Hancock does a nice little business in Chicago these days. Let us not forget Wendell Long alias "Machine Gun Long" and "Baby Face Bailey", known only to his friends as Charles.

The future has given the world lots of things including flower children. Elaine Wilborn, Sharon Moore, Reginda Kay, and Dianne Hairston are our flower children. They live in San Francisco where they spread peace, joy, and love.

The class of '68 has also produced many fine actors and actresses. Portraying the leading man in Dorothy McCoy's new picture is the great Paul Hancock. A lesser part has gone to Sandra Puckett who owns the studio.

To finish up our look into the future, we see three graduates from Section standing on a corner in Old York City. One is Gaynell Outlaw who has made a million dollars selling pencils. With her is Theda York and Gary Tinker who have kept records of her sales since 1970. Boy, have they been busy!

As you can see, the class of '68 has turned out fine. Often we wonder what the world would have done without them.

... Reaction

Newton's law, "For every action there is a ... reaction", applies not only to science but also to people. Life is composed of actions and reactions. There are the actor's actions and the audience's reactions of applause and laughter; the action of a basket and the reaction of cheers from the stands. The story of SHS, 1968, can be read not only in the actions or events of the year but also can be read in the faces of the students and faculty.
