the homecoming dance and the senior prom - teary-eyed (but smiling) newly crowned queen - late night gym-decorating parties - looking the real secret of coupe paper-draping - noisy pep rallies and noisier bus rides to out-of-town games - the senior play - cake sales, car washes and cleanup campaigns - <sup>coming out to</sup> the sound of the <sup>newest</sup> group -

faraway places and new ideas - brought right into the classroom - read the next fifty pages for tomorrow - conferences after class - a pop quiz on the only day you didn't read the assignment - teaching us something in spite of ourselves - lecturing, reading, ... - pulling - pushing back the boundaries of our minds -

It's graduation and it's unbelievable that I'm here. They'll call my name in a few minutes, and I'll walk up to receive my diploma . . . where do I go from there? I've always had the security of the school routine and its activities, surrounded by the friends I was so familiar with. Now we'll all be going in different directions, and I wonder how long it will be before the memories that meant so much start to fade. After twelve years of this you would think I would be ready to move on, but I feel like I'm leaving a part of me behind. Maybe that's good though, because I really have changed in the years that I've been here. Well, pretty soon they'll get to my name. Then I'll be up there, and it'll be all over. In a way, I guess everything is really just beginning.

know their way around - study, but not too hard - keep the phone lines busy during the night - and if it's sophisticated, the Juniors are on to it - activities abound - planning the senior prom - the must have event! now in stages - all coming early one year to go...
