Table of Contents

. . . Dedication

We, the Senior Class of 1966, are exceedingly proud to dedicate this edition of the PANTHER TALES to Mrs. Faye D. Bramlett, our teacher and Senior Sponsor. She has devoted her time and talents to better prepare us for the future.

We express our sincere appreciation for the guidance she has given to us as a class and as individuals.

MYRA THOMAS, Editor

ANDRA MAPLES,

Foreword

WELCOME to the 1966 edition of PANTHER TALES
We, the graduating class of 1966, hope that as you leaf through these pages you will share some of our fondest memories and past experiences.

Look closely at our past then go with us into the future realizing that "If you have faith, as a grain of Mustard seed, nothing shall be impossible unto thee."

In Memoriam

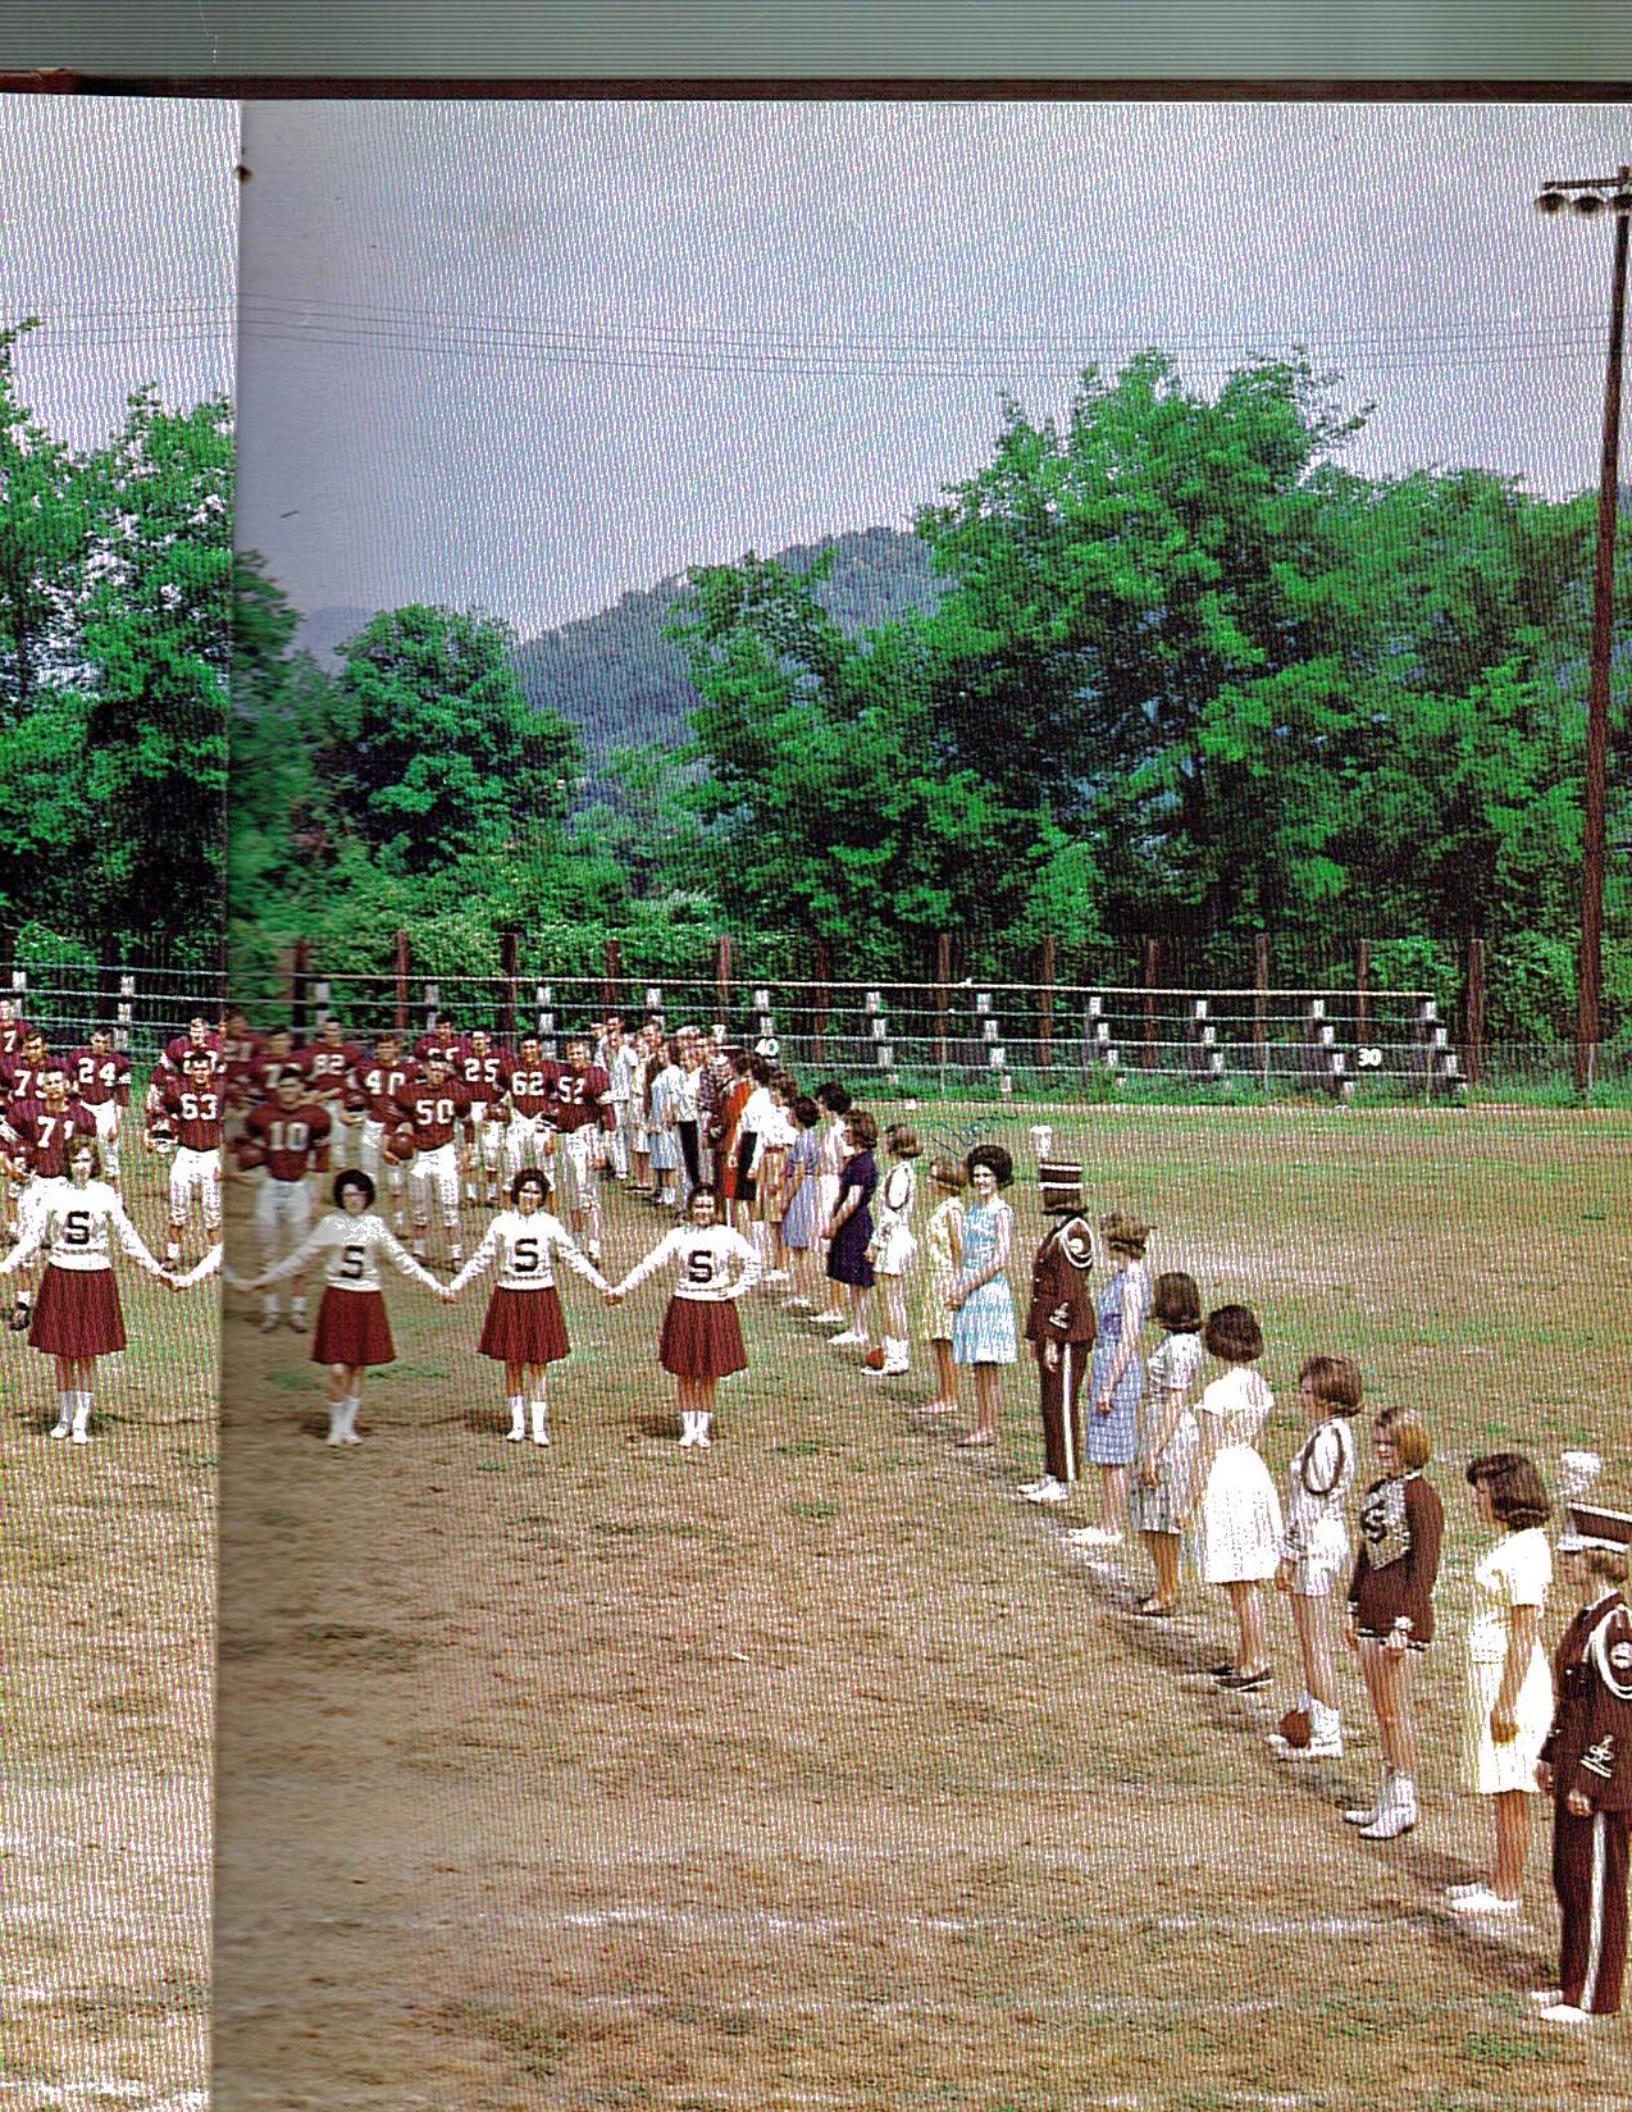

JERRY LYNN BERRY

It is not growing like a tree
In bulk, doth make Man better be;
Or standing long an oak, three hundred year,
To fall a log at last, dry, bald, and sere;
A lily of a day
Is fairer far in May,
Although it fall and die that night -
It was the plant and flower of Light.
In small proportions we just beauties see;
And in short measures life may perfect be.

Through These Halls . . .

ACTIVITIES

Il Penseroso 2

My childish fun is nearly past,
My summer loves, my youthful blasts,
My silly whims, my childish ways,
Are all but gone, and yet they stay,
And linger on and seem so dear,
While maturity's age is drawing near.
More pensive thoughts now fill my head,
The many sprites yield not a sound,
Know not as yet where I am bound,
A great career, and early grave,
Perhaps some peoples' lives to save,
An honest life, a life of sin,
My eternal journey I now begin.

The stillness of the air I hear,
And yet I sense some unknown fear.
I know not what the future holds,
And yet my very soul it molds.
Where will I live ten years from now?
In busy city or small quiet town?
My thoughts on that are not complete,
And yet I hate the city streets.
The country's calm or urban din,
In which will I begin and end?

My one true love, how will she be,
Quiet, passive, and shy or full of glee?
Will her hair be brown or shiny gold?
In this my fortune can't be told.
Will she be true through all the years,
And help surpress by doubts and fears?
One thing above all she need to be,
A loving mother with fear of Thee.

The passing seasons make me think,
That I am on the very brink,
Of changing from one to another,
Would I stay here or would I rather,
Go on to my maturity?
But I can change it you see,
Though I should try with all my might,
I'll still be older yet tonight.
These things should not concern me now,
I should not ask: "Who, why, or how,"
I will live my life from day to day,
Though doubts and sorrows come my way.

John Allison
