FOREWORD

Looking back over our past years at SHS, we see that success and happiness have filled our days. It seems only a short while ago that we began our "school days;" now it is almost over and we are about to enter another phase of our life. Before we leave, we would like to share with you some of our experiences.

In this age of Aquarius, time races so quickly that we fail to grasp some of the meanings of life. Here, at school, is where we look to find some of these meanings. Through the guidance of our teachers and the friendship of our classmates, we learn what some of the more important things are. With these things in mind, we leave with you this 1971 edition of PANTHER TALES.

COACH ERNEST KIRK

DEDICATION

We, the Senior Class, wish to dedicate this edition of PANTHER TALES to two of the nicest people we know. In their short stay here at Stevenson High School, they have become great friends to the school and the community. They have contributed much to the high school athletic program.

In the future, as a team, we feel that they will lead SHS to the top.

With our deepest respect, we proudly and lovingly dedicate this 1971 annual to Coaches David and Ernest Kirk.

ALABAMA'S TEACHER OF THE YEAR

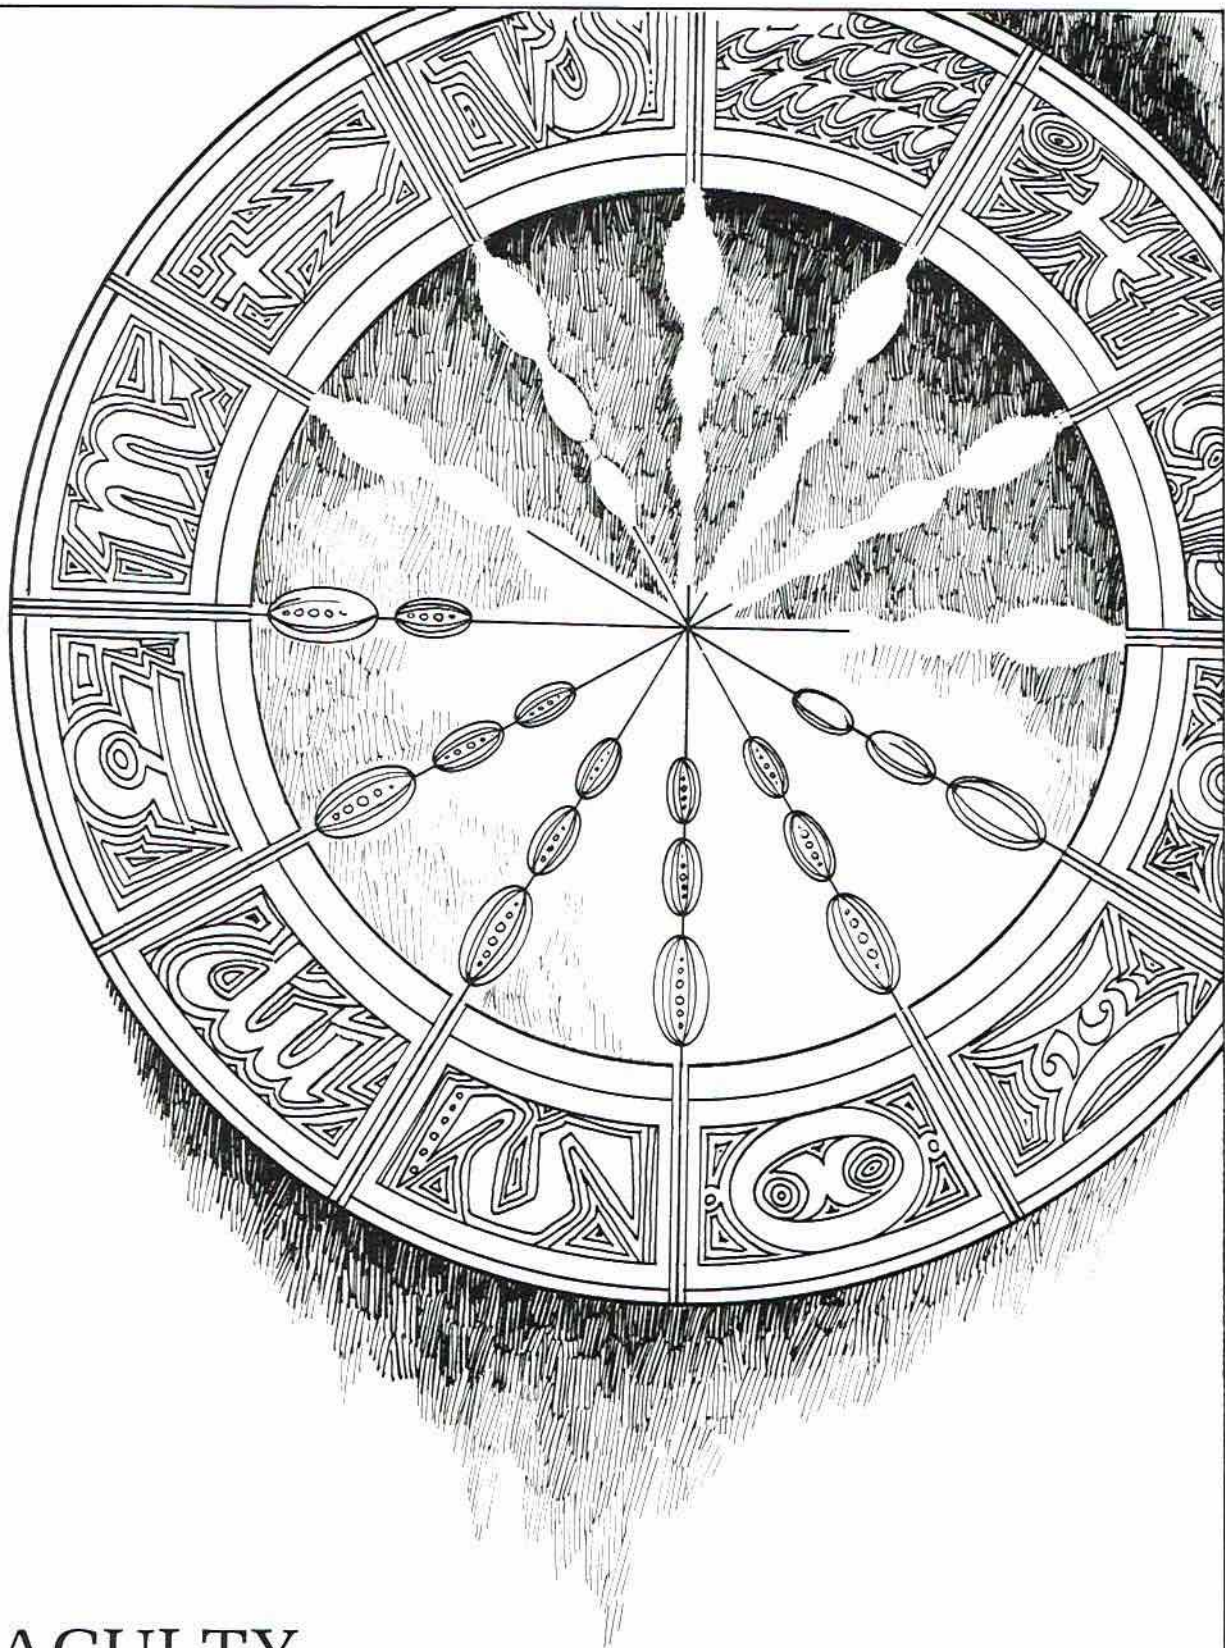

Awarded to Miss Gertrude Sparkman of Stevenson High School,

Dr. Ernest Stone, state Superintendent of Education, has selected Miss Gertrude Frances Sparkman as Alabama's teacher of the year for 1970-71 for the Look Magazine's National Teacher of the Year Contest.

This award, emphasizes teaching excellence and is both an achievement and an inspiration.

Miss Sparkman has given much inspiration to many students who have been entrusted to her care during her fifteen years as a teacher in Stevenson High School.

Miss Sparkman has the philosophy that teachers teach more by example than by textbooks or lectures. She feels that unless the pupils see in the teacher something worthy of note and example, little learning will take place since they will question in what ways the teacher has prepared herself for living.
