We, the Senior Class of 1956 proudly dedicate this yearbook to Mr. Billy H. Rains, our efficient principal.

We sincerely appreciate the principles and high standards of school conduct with which he has governed the school.

We feel that the principles of school government which he has tried to instill in us are highly beneficial to young people in preparing for future service.

We take this opportunity to salute one who has contributed so much to our education.

Senior Prophecy

"For I dipped into the future, far as human eye could see, Saw the senior class of '56 a decade yet to be."

An alumni banquet is being held at Woodville High School. The Senior Class of 1956 along with other classes are present.

Who could be first in line for the table, none other than Burton Keel. I see that he hasn't gotten out of practice of being first in the lunch room although he is a chief executive of a manufacturing company.

Following Burton is Tommy Lands along with his wife and two children. He is home on leave from the Air Corps.

Next to Tommy is David Campbell. He is now working at General Shoe in Huntsville. David is still unmarried and holds a good position in this manufacturing company.

As I come in, I am joined by two more of my classmates, Anna Blankenship and Bettye Tipton. Anna tells me that she is a nurse in Erlinger Hospital in Chattanooga. Bettye is teaching math in the University of Tennessee.

After we are seated I notice setting at an adjoining table Mr. and Mrs. Thomas and Mr. and Mrs. Parker. Edna and Doris have proved to be good housewives in these ten years. Harold has found a good position in the First National Bank of Scottsboro and they are making their home in Woodville. Edna's husband is making the army his career and is now a captain stationed in Fort Worth, Texas.

Standing in a corner still talking is none other than Billy Washburn and Orvel Helms. Mrs. Helms, the former Una Rousseau, is already seated. But where is Mrs. Washburn? Lawyer Washburn must have come alone while Mrs. Washburn is at home with their three months old baby. Mr. Helms is making farming his career. He owns a 150 acre farm on Skyline Mountain.

It is now time to start the meal. Who is that standing to offer thanks? Could that be Ray Hardin? Yes, he is now Reverend Hardin, a minister of a church in Huntsville.

At one table is seated Mr. and Mrs. West. Mrs. Leo West is the former Miss Anne Keel who is working at Burlington Mills in Scottsboro. Seated with them, talking, is Mr. and Mrs. James West. Mrs. James West is the former Annis Livingston, Anne's cousin. Annis also has a position at Burlington Mills.

At another table are seated three old maids along with two bachelors. Miss Annie Sharp, Miss Annette Potter, and Miss Christine Houk. Mr. Curtis McAllister and Mr. Jerry Sparkman. Miss Sharp is now a leading saleslady in Dunnavant's Department Store. Her practice in selling ads for an annual helped greatly in holding this position with Dunnavant's. Miss Potter is holding a position with the F. B. I. in Washington D. C. Miss Houk is now a floor lady at Alabama Bedspread in Scottsboro. Mr. McAllister seems to have followed in his father's footsteps. He is working at Red Stone Arsenal in Huntsville. Doctor Sparkman seems not to be very hungry for he has just returned from an operation at Huntsville Hospital.

Who is that in that little skit that is being performed? It must be Miss Patricia Meade, the great movie star.

Senior Class Prophecy
Continued---

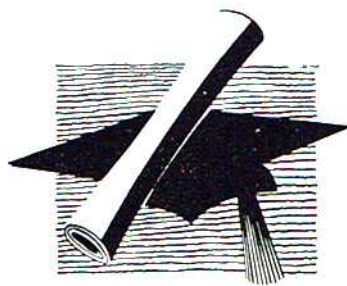

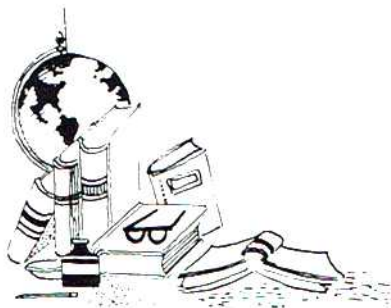

Look who is coming to join our table. None other than Frances Hooper, Juanita Cornelison, and Elvalene Bellomy. Frances is now an airline stewardess on a plane that runs from Birmingham to Washington, D.C. Juanita is now a secretary to a lawyer in Nashville, Tennessee. Elvalene has a position along the same line of Juanita's, for she is a stenographer in the office of the governor of Alabama.

Elizabeth Evans is sitting at the table with Mrs. West. Elizabeth is now married, living in Birmingham, and holds a position with the Steel Corporation there.

Coming in late as usual could be no one else but Clenton Everett who is now working at some secret job in Chicago.

At the table with other faculty members sits our class sponsor, Miss Skelton, still teaching.

As for myself, Adeline Soper, I am now teaching high school English at Huntsville High School.
