Presented by

The Senior Class of

*Woodville High School
Woodville, Alabama*

In Memoriam

MISS BONNIE GAIL COBB

The Sr. III. Class of Woodville High School wishes to pay tribute to the memory of Miss Bonnie Gail Cobb, a loving member of the Senior Class, who passed away October 23, 1969.

Bonnie was a popular member of the Senior Class and favorite with all teachers and the entire student body. All remember her quiet manner and pleasant smile.

She was an active member of the Beta Club, F.H.A., and was elected class favorite for the past three years.

Woodville High School mourns with the family by the passing of Bonnie. She will be missed by all who have known her, but her memory will live with us forever.

Senior Class Prophecy

Recently on a trip back home from Atlanta, I stopped in at several towns along the way and learned of the success of our former classmates of 1970 at good "Ole WHS." So I decided to write my good friend Paul O'Neal and tell him of their success.

Dear Paul:

I stopped in your town a few days ago on my way back from traveling home. I am very sorry I missed you, but I am delighted to learn that you finally reached your goal and are now Mayor of Paint Rock. Your secretary told me that you were out of town on business concerning your chain stores named O'Neal Brothers Merchandise. Isn't it great that your home town friend Jimmy Womack is now the head mechanic at Indianapolis Raceway in Indiana?

While going through Paint Rock Valley, I discovered that Larry Edwards is now the head coach of the Princeton Swamp-rabbits at Princeton College. While talking with Larry, I was told that Rebecca Atchley now owns a world famous beauty salon in Hollywood, California.

During my stay in Woodville I talked with several of our old classmates. J. R. Justice now operates Honda World, the largest Motorcycle shop in the nation. Charles Whitaker reached his dream and is now Sheriff of Jackson County. While talking with Sheriff Whitaker, he told me that Howard Wallace is head of the Woodville Police Department. You remember how good James Cotton was in basketball. Well, he is now the star guard for the Boston Celtics. Donald Ray Hodges is now a C.P.A. and is making lots of money. Ronald McCarver owns the world's largest go-go club in Woodville. Upon leaving, I found out that Ralph Bittle is the best race car driver in the country.

While home, I also visited some of my old friends on Nat and Skyline Mountains. There I talked with Leon Hastings who has recently replaced Bear Bryant as Head Athletic Director of the University of Alabama. Under his direction the University is really prospering. I was also surprised to find that Bobby Sharp has replaced J. Edgar Hoover as the Director of the F. B. I. Another classmate to make it big is Barbara Tidwell, who is now Alabama's second woman governor. I talked with the Mayor of Nat Mountain, Larry West, who told me that Catherine West has just become the first woman Speaker of the House in Congress. Nadine Buckner has become the world's best piano player. She always could play the piano. Upon leaving the mountain, I ran across Sharon Sharp. She had just returned from New York City where she is head of Macy's Department Store. She said that Nina Jones had just been appointed Dean of Women at Cumberland Mountain College. I also stopped at the nation's largest pet shop operated by Jackie Cain and chatted with him for a while.

On my way back to Atlanta, I went by Limrock to see my old friend Ray Frazier. It surely did surprise me when he told me that he is an admiral in the U. S. Navy. Just before I left Limrock, I talked with Mayor Randy Gentle, who is also head of the North Alabama Electric Co-op. He told me that another Limrock resident, Calvin Dulaney, now owns Rough and Tumble Furniture Store in Scottsboro.

I made my final stop in Larkinsville where I talked with Doctor Charles George who is the world's greatest heart surgeon. One of his patients, Gail Miller, is now teaching Speech at Woodville Tech.

Time is running short, so I must close. Lots of luck and success to you and your family.

Sincerely,

Bo

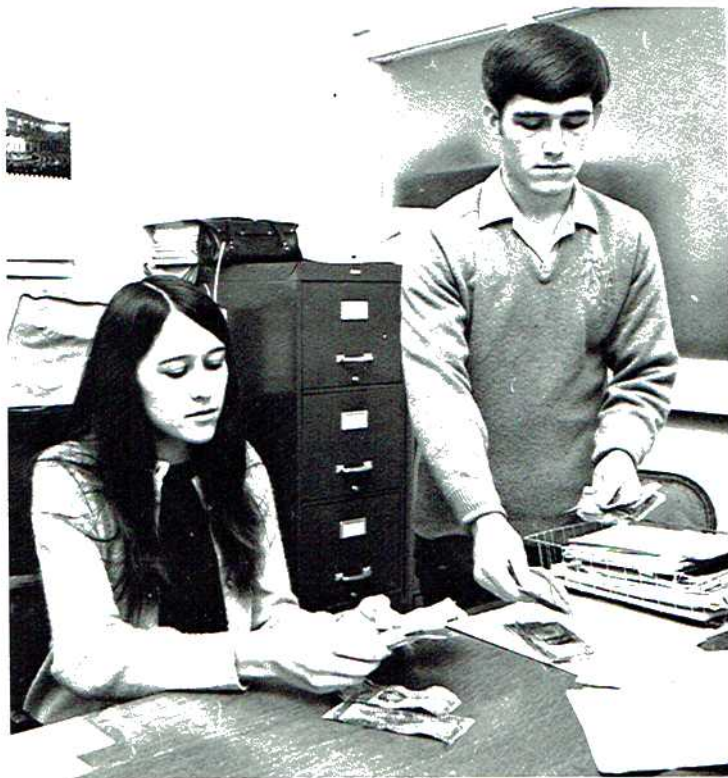

P. S. If you are ever in Atlanta, stop by and see me. I am playing right field for the Atlanta Braves Baseball Team.
